RESCUE PARTY FINDS CORPSES OF 21 MINERS

Heavy Mortality Attends Gas Explosion in an Iowa Coal Mine

EIGHT OTHERS ARE SERIOUSLY BURNED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OSKALOOSA, IA., Jan. 24.—As the result of a mine disaster at Lost Creek this afternoon 21 dead are in an improvised morgue and 8 are in a temporary hospital.

The Dead Are:

Joe Gaspers,	Mike Fox, Sr.,
Frank Gaspers,	Mike Fox, Jr.,
Jim Stohal,	Boone Fish,
S. Creighton,	Russ Fish,
Joe Berto,	A. B. Crews,
Andy Pash,	Jack Elder,
Frank Secress,	Dave Walter,
John Martin,	Sam Humphrey,
John Biros,	Jim Humphrey,
Mike Hraha,	Alex Gray,
Jack Manley.

The injured, most of them seriously, are: Ed. Secress, Ed. Swanson, Jonas Mabio, Olive Mabie, John Jerkin, William Harvey, George Gogo, Harry Dorrock.

The explosion occurred at the noon hour, and was what is known as a "dust" explosion. The miners had just fired their usual noon shots, one of which proved to be a fizzle. The burning powder ignited the gas and the explosion followed. Smoke and debris were blown out of the shaft 200 feet high. Part of the top works was torn away and the fans and cages were partially wrecked. This made the work of rescue very slow, and it was 3 o'clock before volunteer parties dared to venture into the east entry where the explosion occurred.

When they fought their way in a horrible sight greeted them. The dead and injured were terribly burned and mutilated, some of them almost beyond recognition. Fire, which at first was feared would prove destructive to the entire mine, had broken out and this added terror to the spectacle. The flames were finally controlled and after several of the rescue party had succumbed to the fumes all the dead were found and carried to the top of the shaft. At the time of the explosion more than 100 men were in the mines, but all except those in the east entry escaped with only slight injury.

The total property damage will be about $10,000. Nearly all of the men were married and leave families in poor circumstances. The mine is owned by the Lost Creek Fuel Company of this city and has been in operation about one year.

TRAINMEN ASK A RAISE.

Erie Railroad Employes Working For Increased Wages.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The engineers, conductors and trainmen of the Erie railroad have demanded an increase in wages. The conductors demand an increase from $2.70 to $3 a day, but what the trainmen and engineers ask for has not been made public.

M. H. Shay, J. T. Mitchell and Charles Peirce, the grievance committee, has been in New York since last Saturday presenting the demands. The increase, if it is made, will affect the entire road, from New York to Chicago. Engineers of the Lake Shore are also making a demand for an increase in wages.

TWO BIG DEALS WERE CLOSED IN THIS DISTRICT

West End Belt Line and Twenty Thousand Acres of Land Have Changed Hands.

$9,000,000 IS INVOLVED

Two great coal deals have just been closed in Pittsburgh. They involved the transfer of a railroad, 20,000 acres of coal and the payment of $9,000,000. The first was the sale by John S. Scully of the West Side Belt line and his coal lands in the south side of the county. The other was the purchase of 8,000 acres in Belmont county, O.

It is believed that the Pennsylvania railroad was the purchaser of the Scully property. The Pennsylvania has been credited with a desire to own the belt line. Mr. Scully, however, does not know who the real purchaser is. He made the following statement in Philadelphia last night:

"I don't know whether the Pennsylvania is interested or not. My negotiations were with Frank F. Nicola and Charles Donnelly. Who they represented I don't know. Besides the belt line the deal involved 12,000 acres of the best high grade or export coal lands in the market. There were only 16,000 acres left, my own holdings and those of J. B. Corey, the LeMoyne and other scattering farms. The price was $8,000,000."

The tract comprises all the land between Carson street and the river, including the Denny holdings and the balance of the property owned by the belt line. It gives the best harbor and river terminals in Pittsburgh, and will prove immensely valuable.

Captain Alfred Hicks of Pittsburgh and Thomas K. Maher of Philadelphia have closed a deal at the Hotel Duquesne yesterday for the purchase of 8,000 acres in Belmont county, Ohio, and Messrs. Hicks and Maher paid about $1,000,000 for the property. J. P. and C. W. Troll of St. Clairsville, O., who have been an important factor in the ownership of the properties met the purchasers here yesterday and the deal was closed within a few hours.

The coal purchased is now being developed by the Black Diamond Coal Company, Ohio and West Virginia Coal Company and the Echo Coal Company. Under the new ownership the corporate existence of these companies will be continued. Representatives of the purchasers concluded an expert survey of the property within the past week, and after this no time was lost in making the purchase.

The new owners will continue the development on a larger scale. There are now on the property three mines in operation. The field extends into four townships, and is tapped by a network of railroads. The coal is all one of the No. 8 vein, Pittsburgh seam, averaging five feet eight inches thick, and well known for its high grade quality.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE IS COMING.

The weather bureau has another cold wave on the boards. Col. Frank Ridgway last night received the following telegram from headquarters in Washington:

"Cold wave coming. Temperature will fall about 20 degrees by Saturday night."

This will mean a temperature of 10 above zero, or less.

TREATY TO BUY DANISH ISLAND AT LAST SIGNED

To Be Sent to Senate Monday and Likely Ratified Soon.

PRICE OF PURCHASE NOT YET REVEALED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Secretary Hay for the United States and Minister Constantin Brun for Denmark signed this morning the treaty providing for the cession of the Danish West Indies to the United States. The convention was signed shortly before the meeting of the cabinet, and the secretary announced the news of its conclusion to the president and his cabinet.

The treaty will be transmitted to the senate on Monday. It will be referred to the committee on foreign relations and will be immediately reported by that body. Senator Sumner, chairman of the committee, 35 years ago refused to report the treaty signed in 1867 back to the senate, and new negotiations were required to prolong the term of ratification. It was with great difficulty that in a subsequent session the treaty was finally brought before the senate and rejected.

It Is Different Now.

No such difficulty is anticipated in the case of the treaty just signed by Mr. Hay and M. Brun. Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, enjoys friendly relations with the administration and has always advocated the acquisition of the islands.

The price to be paid for the islands has not been revealed, although it is believed to be about $3,000,000.

It is known that Denmark has abandoned the position she was inclined to occupy toward the conservation of the political rights of the inhabitants of the island, and leaves the United States a free hand to deal with them without pledge of American citizenship or of free trade privileges. So it is assumed that the status of the Danish West Indian should the treaty be ratified will be similar to that of Porto Rico.

Lower House to Have a Voice.

The new treaty is peculiar in that it will require action not only by the senate and the Danish rigsdag, but by the United States house of representatives as well, since it will be necessary for the house to supply the needed appropriation to defray the expense of purchase.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 24.—So confident is the Danish government that the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States will be consummated that it has ordered a Danish cruiser to St. Thomas, W. I., to assist in the ceremony of transference. The government has decided not to provide a plebiscite for the people of the Danish West Indies. The terms of the treaty with the United States will be published shortly. The treaty requires the consent of the rigsdag, but little trouble is anticipated in that direction.

Assassination Story Untrue.

ATHENS, Jan. 24.—Investigation of the report that an attempt had been made upon the life of King George of Greece, in the park at Phaleron, proves the story to be without foundation.

CROWD GATHERED TO CHEER VICTOR OF SANTIAGO BAY

Pittsburghers Gave Him an Ovation During His Half Hour Wait at the B. & O. Station.

HONORED AT EVERY STOP

Pittsburgh was honored last night by having as its guest Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, the victor of Santiago bay. He spent 30 minutes here, en route from Washington to Chicago. During his stay 500 people shook him by the hand and he was given a great ovation. The crowd was a surprising one, in view of the fact that few people knew at what hour he would pass through.

As the train pulled into the station about 200 people who had been allowed to come inside the gates made a rush for his car. A few short raps on the rear door brought the admiral out. The railroad men in the yards deserted their engines and trains and pushed up with the crowd to shake his hand.

"Let Them In."

"Admiral," said one of those present, "there are hundreds of people who want to see you, but the station gates are closed." "Oh, that is too bad. Why don't they let them in?" His remark was overheard by a railroad official and in an instant there was a wild cheer and the crowd was rushing to the admiral's car. "Speech, speech," yelled the crowd, and, doffing his golf cap, the hero of Santiago bay said:

"My friends, it is a pleasure to meet you, and I appreciate your kind reception. Your sympathy touches me deeply. I again thank you for your kind reception."

Just before the train pulled out of the station an enthusiastic visitor said to the admiral: "I hope to live to vote for you for president." Throwing up his hands he replied, "Oh, don't tempt me, don't tempt me."

Had Nothing to Say.

To the reporters he said, "Boys I am afraid that your visit will be profitless, as I have nothing to say." In the meantime, hundreds of people were clamoring to reach his extended hands.

He was dressed in a long overcoat with a gray golf cap. A half-burned cigar was in his mouth, and a pair of gold nose glasses covered his eyes.

Sitting inside of the car was Mrs. Schley and Congressman John J. Feeley of Chicago. A smile of contentment covered Mrs. Schley's face as she witnessed the enthusiasm of the people who were pushing and shoving to shake her husband's hand. "I am glad to see you," said the admiral as he grasped each outstretched hand.

One Long Ovation.

Admiral Schley left Washington on his special car at 10:30 yesterday morning. All along his route crowds gathered at the stations to see him pass, and when the train stopped there were loud cries for the victor of Santiago. At many of the towns he responded by shaking hands with those of the crowd who could reach him and making a few remarks of thanks for the demonstration.

At Cumberland 3,000 people were at the station and he was forced to make the longest talk of the journey. The admiral was given a perfect ovation by the crowd there. At Connellsville the crowd numbered 2,000 and fought for a chance to shake his hand. At McKeesport 8,000 persons gathered and cheered him to the echo, although the train stopped only long enough to give the people a glance at the popular naval hero.

He will arrive in Chicago at 10 o'clock this morning, and will be met by a committee from the Hamilton club and escorted to the hotel. Tonight a reception will be given him by the club.

QUAY THINKS HE MUST TAKE JUST ONE TERM MORE

Sees It Would Prevent a Lot of Trouble for Governor Stone.

HE WILL BE A STATE DELEGATE

BY CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 24.—Senator M. S. Quay will be a delegate from Beaver county to the next Republican state convention, and it also is probable that he will accept the chairmanship of the convention which will nominate a successor to Gov. W. A. Stone. Col. Quay is the authority for this statement.

Unannounced Col. Quay came to Philadelphia last night. He spent the evening with Senator Penrose and insurance Commissioner I. W. Durham. Today Penrose, Durham, McNichols and Lane of Philadelphia, with a little touch of the time-Beaver, the senator's home county, sent representatives urging him to act as one of its delegates to the state convention. The senator was pleased, and accepted without hesitation. The senator refused to say anything about Elkin's candidacy.

After a moment's thought, Col. Quay continued:

Willing to Be Re-Elected.

"I am afraid I will be obliged to respond to the unanimous demand of the people and accept another term in the United States senate. Yes, you may say if the demand is unanimous, I will serve another term."

And the senator laughed heartily at his declaration.

"That would settle all the trouble," continued the senator. "It would clarify the gubernatorial atmosphere and please Bill Stone. By the way, Stone will be here this evening, but I don't want to see him, and am going away on the next train. You tell Stone, however, that I am out for another term, and let me know what he says. It will be interesting.

"Who are the candidates for the senate to succeed you?" I asked Col. Quay.

"I don't know of any except Stone, and he is worried about the shadows which Pittsburgh people have thrown across his gubernatorial pathway. In order to relieve the governor I'll have to again go to the front."

Interested in Pittsburgh.

Col. Quay asked many questions about the Pittsburgh situation. He wanted to know if there was any chance to whip Flinn, and asked if Flinn would stand by his agreement with Stone and deliver the Allegheny county delegates to Elkin. He observed that some one had told him that John Lambie, a recent, had a good chance of beating Flinn's candidate for city controller. It was evident, from his tone, that the senator desired it to be understood that he (Quay) had no confidence in Stone or Flinn, nor stock in their agreements.

The senator's frankness did not appear to meet the approbation of Senator Penrose. During my conversation with Senator Quay his colleague, Penrose, appeared.

"It's time for you to go to the train," said Penrose to Quay.

"I think I'll stay over until morning," said the colonel.

CORONER'S JURY BLAMES NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILWAY

Places Upon Its Officials the Responsibility for the Recent Tunnel Disaster in Metropolis.

THE EMPLOYES GO FREE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—After deliberating three hours and seven minutes the coroner's jury impanelled for the inquest into the Park avenue tunnel disaster brought in a verdict placing responsibility for the loss of life squarely upon the management of the New York Central railroad. The verdict says:

We further find faulty management on the part of the officials of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, and we hold said officials responsible, for the reason that during the last ten years said officials have been repeatedly warned by their locomotive engineers and other employes of the dangerous condition existing in said tunnel, imperiling the lives of thousands of passengers, and they have failed to remedy said condition; and, also, for the reason that certain improvements in the way of both visible and audible signals could have been installed and this disaster thereby have been avoided; and, for the further reason that no regulation of speed at which trains should run in said tunnel has been made, thereby allowing engineers to exercise their own discretion.

Both John Walker, engineer, and Edward Filer, his fireman, were freed from custody and Coroner Scholer declared their bail bonds discharged. Walker had been held in $10,000 bail and Filer in half that sum.

Though the verdict stated that Walker had run by the cautionary and danger signals, its effect was to cause his immediate discharge, because it placed responsibility for his failure to see the lights upon the conditions which the company knew existed in the tunnel and which it had continued to tolerate.

Coroner Scholer said, in reply to questions: "It is now up to District Attorney Jerome. Whatever legal action should be taken now devolves upon him and the grand jury."

MOURNING REALLY OVER

Duke and Duchess of Connaught See "Sherlock Holmes."

LONDON, Jan. 24.—[Special Cable.]—The first members of the royal family to attend a theater out-Jubilee since Queen Victoria's death are the duke and duchess of Connaught, who will, I am informed, occupy the royal box at the Lyceum theater tomorrow night to see Gillette in his remarkably successful production, "Sherlock Holmes." Nearly all the members of the royal family have already seen this play, but hitherto have attended incognito owing to the court being in mourning.

Latest Step in The Schley Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The president has referred Admiral Schley's appeal to the navy department for "comment." This is the technical term employed in naval law to designate a reply in the nature of a criticism to any presentation. It is understood that the preparation of this comment will consume about two weeks.

Admiral and Mrs. Schley departed today on their western tour.

INVESTIGATION OF WAREHOUSE SCHEME BEGINS

Chamber of Commerce Committee Holds Session Today.

RIVERMEN WILL FIGHT TO PROTECT WHARF

The Chamber of Commerce will begin its investigation of the warehouse scheme this afternoon. The committee on municipal affairs is to do the probing. Frank P. Nicola, the head of the warehouse syndicate, will appear before the committee and has declared his intention to answer questions fully and completely with regard to the undertaking.

Popular interest in the project has by no means abated. It centers largely in the railroad system that will follow the erection of the warehouses. Firemen are very much wrought up over the possibility of an elevated track along the Monongahela wharf. Capt. John W. Drake, secretary of the Pittsburgh coal exchange, declared that organized opposition will result.

"It is an unmitigated outrage," he said yesterday, "for the railroad company to attempt to take a portion of the wharf for such a purpose. Every possible effort will be made to thwart any movement in this direction. We have not sufficient room now for wharf purposes and the river interests do not intend to stand idly by and see the wharf used for any other than its original purpose."

Danger Would Be Increased.

Capt. James A. Henderson, president of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Company, said:

"We will be badly affected by the erection of an elevated road. In times of high water, when the Monongahela is at a stage between 27 and 30 feet, we have hardly sufficient room to take care of our craft. If the elevated road is built our boats would have to remain far out in the river and be subject to grave danger. If the city gives the railroad company the right to build the elevated line they ought to charge $100,000 a mile a year for the franchise."

Capt. W. Harry Brown is of rather a different opinion.

"It is not to be doubted," he said last night, "that railroad tracks placed at any point on the sloping wharf would occasionally prove an inconvenience to navigators. I do not believe, however, that this would often be the case if the elevation was at least 20 feet."

Railroad Has the Right.

It is said that the Baltimore & Ohio will not have to go to councils for the right to build the extension. Under an omnibus charter granted to the Pittsburgh & Connellsville, the Pittsburgh and of the Baltimore & Ohio system, it has the right to act without the city's consent. Several years ago, when the Second avenue crossing was changed, the city was worsted in an attempt to prevent the change.

Developments of the last few days point to the probability that the Pittsburgh Railways road will have direct access to the warehouses. The line now extends down the Allegheny river above to Ninth street, where its car ferry has one terminus. It will then join the Liberty line and one of the Penn lines.

Robert Pitcairn, president southern of the president of the Pennsylvania, Pitts-day denied that the system had any connection with the project.

"The warehouse project," he said, "is a proposition independent of the Pennsylvania railroad. The warehouse people will want our tracks to enter their buildings, but so far we have had no dealings with any of the people behind the project."

Options Expire April 1.

It is said that the options held by the warehouse syndicate on Point property will all expire April 1.

The following statement was made last night by Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon and Julia Morgan Harding, the press committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution:

In the morning papers of Thursday, January 24th, was printed a letter signed by F. F. Nicola, containing several statements in reference to the plans of the warehouse syndicate. Those concerning the points at issue between the syndicate and the D. A. R., include the following:

First, Mr. Nicola says, "There was opposition to the vacation of Fort street on the part of the Daughters of the American Revolution, notwithstanding the fact that Miss Matilda W. Denny advised on December 4th, that she did not see how the D. A. R. could object to the closing of Fort street."

Miss Denny's letter, from which Mr. Nicola quotes the above expression of opinion, was a personal letter addressed to Mr. Herron, but which was, according to the statements of members of the Pittsburgh council, represented as being an official communication from the president of the Allegheny County society, D. A. R. Miss Denny's letter was as follows:

Her Personal Opinion.

My Dear Mr. Herron:—

After considering my interview with you this morning, I would like to say personally, but at all as president of the board of directors of D. A. R. of Allegheny county, that I do not see how the D. A. R. could object to the closing of Fort street. The society received the gift from Mr. Schenley with the understanding that Fort street was to be closed, and she, in her liberal generosity, gave the entrance from Penn avenue with that in view. I have called a meeting of the board for Friday, but this is merely my own opinion, not given officially in any way.

Second, The volume to which Mr. Nicola refers as an evidence that the entire society was "pledged to the vacation of Fort street," was compiled by Miss Denny and printed by the Pittsburgh chapter; it is in no sense official, being simply a condensed historical narrative, not entering into the legal points which the possession of the property involves.

The only official document recognized by the Allegheny County society, D. A. R., is the deed from Mrs. Schenley to the Allegheny County society, D. A. R., recorded at the court house, and a public record of the transaction between them.

Provisions of the Deed.

In this document are to be found the following paragraphs: "Subject also to the right of the party of the first part to represent said above described real estate in all proceedings looking to the opening of O'Hara avenue and the vacation of Fort street and Point alley, the party of the second part being to restrain, reserve and not part with, the right to petition the city of Pittsburgh in behalf of said real estate, to open said O'Hara avenue and to vacate said Fort street and Point alley, and she hereby reserves said right to herself, her heirs, executors, and administrators without liability, however, for any assessment of benefits on said real estate by reason of said opening or vacations."

In no other part of the deed is the closing of Fort street mentioned, without said mention being coupled with the words "and the opening of O'Hara avenue."

Third, Mr. Nicola, in his letter of January 21st, to Miss Denny, says that no plans have been made which anticipate the purchase or acquirement of any part of the property of the D. A. R., or the removal of the Block House from its present location. Propositions were made to the society for the removal of the Block House, and they were not considered.

Steps to Insure Property.

Steps have been taken to insure the Block House and surrounding historic ground from possible injury, arising from the building of warehouses, pleiforma and railroad tracks as shown by the syndicate's plans when laid before the society. The claim that the syndicate in no wise intends or expects to injure the Block House and surrounding property can be disproved inasmuch as the syndicate's agent, in conversation with several members of the society, has said that the building would be injured by the proposed driving of piles, and by the exclusion of light and air, in consequence of the erection of seven-story warehouses on all sides of it. D. A. R.

The executive board of Pittsburgh District Assembly No. 3, Knights of Labor, last night received a letter from Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, acknowledging the support of the assembly in resolutions passed January 15 for the preservation of the Block House and indorsing the position of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Ammon said in conclusion:

"We feel that the interest of your organization will have great weight with the people whose interest we still heed, and that you have helped us in our effort to protect this monument of national importance."

Bricklayers Adjourn.

The 36th annual convention of the Bricklayers and Masons' International union adjourned last midnight, to meet again at Memphis, Tenn. The southern town won the contest for the next convention against strong opposition, the next leader being Trenton, N. J. The convention re-elected the present officers of the union, as follows: George P. Gubbins, president; W. J. Bowen, first vice president; M. P. Canty, second vice president; William Dobson, secretary; Patrick Murray, treasurer; E. A. Moffett, official editor.

INVADED BY WATER.

Employes of a Large Store Had to Hustle to Save Things.

A water pipe burst in the stock room of the Liberty Clothing Company and caused the interior to be flooded so quickly that the employes had difficulty in saving the goods. As it was, many of the garments were more or less damaged. Some things were deep in water before the burst pipe was discovered, but by energetic work most of the goods were rescued without sustaining serious damage. Good luck favored the force, and after a few hours of assorting it was discovered that aside from a little dampness most of the goods were none the worse for the inundation.

The incident soon caused a crowd to collect in front of the establishment at No. 846 Liberty street, the bustling activity inside arousing the impression that something serious must have happened.

DOLAN MAKES A GOOD FIGHT, BUT LOSES IT

Five Pennsylvania Delegates Denied Seats in Miners' Convention.

OLD OFFICERS CHOSEN

Ballots Cast for Delegates to American Federation of Labor Convention—$500 Appropriated for the McKinley Memorial.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 24.—President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh district made a game fight to secure the seating of the entire delegation of that district in the national convention of the United Mine Workers here today, but was unsuccessful in the cases of five of his men who represented locals which had not been prompt in paying dues to the national body. The remainder of the delegates from that district succeeded in establishing their titles to seats.

The convention elected the following officers by acclamation: President, John Mitchell; vice president, T. L. Lewis; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Wilson. One Ohio delegate protested against making the election of Lewis unanimous, but his objections were not placed before the convention.

The result of the election of delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention will not be known till the 950 ballots shall have been counted.

The convention adopted a resolution appropriating $500 to the national McKinley memorial fund, after a prolonged discussion. Delegate W. D. Ryan of Illinois was one of those who opposed the appropriation of the funds in the hands of the national officers for any purpose "other than those ends for which the money was collected." Patrick Dolan of Pittsburgh moved that the sum of $1,500 be appropriated.

Considerable discussion followed this, finally President Mitchell said:

"In order to bring this matter to a settlement, I move that the secretary be instructed to draw his warrant for $500."

President Mitchell's motion was carried with cheers.

QUAY DESIRES ONE MORE TERM

Nevertheless, the senator did quietly take a train for Washington tonight.

Gov. Stone arrived from Harrisburg at 6 o'clock. I met him at the Broad street station and told him Quay was here.

"I did not know it," he said, crustily, and strode on.

Back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Senator Quay returned at 9 o'clock tonight. He decilned to be seen tonight. While the conference in Philadelphia today was of a political nature, it is understood that it had nothing to do with the state ticket to be nominated this year.

It was decided to persuade Senator-elect Harris to abandon his libel suit against Editor Meek of Bellefonte.

FRANCOS LIVED IN AKRON.

Fraudulent Count Once Arranged to Entertain Schwab in the Ohio City.

AKRON, O., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Charles Jules Francos, alias Count Nuf-chalea, who is under arrest in Chicago for attempting to secure $200,000 worth of steel fraudently from the United States Steel Corporation, was employed as a draughtsman last summer in Akron. He claimed to have connections with the steel corporation, and asserted at one time that the company was about to build a plant in Akron.

He engaged an entire floor at the Windsor hotel for the entertainment of President Schwab and sent the latter many cipher telegrams about a purported visit of the magnate here. Mr. Schwab did not come to Akron and a short time after Francos disappeared.

ONE BOY MAY DIE.

Coasting Accident Occurs on the Robinson Street Hill.

Thomas Kearns, aged 18 years, was probably fatally injured, and six other boys cut and bruised in a bobsled collision at Fifth avenue and Robinson street early last night. The accident was caused by the failure of Kearns, who was steering, to make the turn into Fifth avenue, the sled crashed into a carriage.

Kearns and nine others were riding on a bobsled. The hill is almost half a mile in length and hundreds of coasters were on it last night.

About 8 o'clock the sled crashed into a carriage belonging to the Allegheny Transfer Company. The carriage was lifted from the street and sent against an electric wire pole. The occupants of the carriage escaped injury.

Kearns was picked up unconscious and was sent to the Mercy hospital. His chest is crushed, his head cut and his limbs bruised. The physicians at the hospital have little hope of his recovery. He lives at 1831 Tustin street. Several others were injured, but their names could not be secured. One boy is said to have had his arm broken.

Inspector Henry Whitehouse detailed a squad of police to the scene when he learned of the accident and instructed them to stop all coasting.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Case Postponed.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Today was the time set for the argument in the petition for the writ of quo warranto against the state council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, to show cause why it claims a legal existence. Attorney General Elkin was ready, but A. M. Dehaven, attorney for the state council, asked for a further postponement to prepare affidavits. This was granted.

Castro Makes an Enemy of France.

WILLEMSTAD, CURACAO, Jan. 24.—(Special Cable.)—President Castro has persisted in refusing to allow M. Secrestat's son to land at La Guayra, despite the proved fact that he could not have any conference with Senor Matos, the leader of the revolutionists, during the voyage of the steamship St. Laurent to Fort de France and Trinidad.

In view of President Castro's bad faith, it is believed the French government will take energetic action.

The revolutionary steamship Libertador has successfully distributed arms along the coast of Venezuela. There is an insurrection in part of the state of Carabobo against Castro's government.

LAWYER PATRICK EAGER TO TESTIFY

HIS COUNSEL CANNOT PREVENT HIM IF HE INSISTS.

Defense Contesting Against Admission of Testimony at Almost Every Point. Will Insist That Millionaire Rice Died of Maladies Incident to Age.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Albert T. Patrick took voluminous notes today while listening to the first testimony given against him in his trial for the murder of William Marsh Rice before Recorder Goff. As he finished each page he passed it to Robert Moore, one of his lawyers, to suggest a line of cross-examination or specific questions that he wished to have put to the witness.

It is not yet possible to forecast the line of defense, as much will depend upon the case developed by the prosecution. Patrick's lawyers express the hope that the accusations will be so vague and shadowy that the recorder will not deem it necessary to submit them to the jury. Failing in this the defense will be that if there were a murder Charles F. Jones alone was guilty. No admission will be made on any score, Patrick insisting that the death certificate given by Dr. W. Curry, who attended Mr. Rice, was virtually correct, and that the old millionaire was neither poisoned nor chloroformed, but succumbed to old age.

It became known today that Patrick is eager to testify, as he is convinced that his explanation would prove satisfactory to the jury and result in his exoneration. Some of his counsel are not yet certain whether it would be advisable to put him forward. He would have many awkward explanations to make about the disposition of the Rice millions and the manner in which his position changed suddenly from that of an opposing counsel to the general assignee and residuary legatee. If Patrick desires to testify his advisers cannot restrain him from so doing, and it is his present intention to take the stand.

The witnesses today were bank clerks, who testified concerning the Rice check presented for collection the day after Rice's death, and which was said to be forged. The defense contest against admission of testimony on almost every point.

PATENT SUIT DECIDED.

Won by the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, in Which Charles M. Schwab Is Interested.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The most important decision yet recorded in the matter of pneumatic tools was rendered by Judge Cox of the United States circuit court in the case of Timolat, the owner, and the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, the exclusive licensees of the Moffet patent, against the Standard Pneumatic Tool Company and others. Today an order was entered in that court holding the Little Giant drill manufactured by the Standard company to be an infringement of the Moffet patent for portable drilling machines and granting an injunction against its further manufacture, use and sale.

Pending an appeal the injunction is to be suspended if the defendant company gives a cash bond in the sum of $25,000 to indemnify the owner of the patent against any further infringement of the sustained patent. This decision gives the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company the exclusive licensees under the Moffet patent, complete monopoly of the manufacture and sale of the portable drilling machines. It is said that with this decision as a basis suits will now be brought against all other infringing manufacturers and users of the portable drilling machines.

The Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company has among its directors Charles M. Schwab, Gen. Charles A. Miller, president of the Galena Oil Company, Franklin, Pa., and others.

WELDON WINS OUT.

A Colorado Judge Grants Writ of Habeas Corpus to a Former Pittsburgh Grocer.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., Jan. 24.—Judge Cunningham today granted a writ of habeas corpus in favor of C. A. Weldon, who was arrested here on a charge of having obtained money on false pretenses at McKeesport, Pa., and for whom the governor of Pennsylvania had made a requisition which Governor Orman of this state has honored.

The judge held that the indictment on which the requisition was based was "fatally defective." Weldon asserted that the charge was unfounded and was trumped up in order to get him back to Pennsylvania, where service could be had on him in a civil suit.

SCHWAB COMING BACK.

Expected in New York City Within Ten Days—Changed His Mind.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—It was said today at the office of the United States Steel Corporation that President C. M. Schwab is expected to be in this city within 10 days.

Only a day or two ago one of Mr. Schwab's personal friends in this city, a director of the combine, received a letter saying Mr. and Mrs. Schwab probably would stay abroad until spring. In some quarters his return is connected with the annual meeting of the stockholders of the steel corporation, which takes place February 17.

EXECUTIONS ADD TO BOER STRENGTH

CAPE COLONISTS FLOCKING TO JOIN THE FIGHTERS.

Trustworthy Reports Say British Have Suffered Ten Defeats Recently, Which Have Not Been Given to the Public. Burghers Situation More Favorable.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Daily News has published from its correspondent at The Hague, whom it claims to have been very accurate, the following dispatch, taken from private advices:

"News from South Africa has reached military circles here that the power of the Boers over Cape Colony is increasing daily; that the rebellion is constantly spreading and that the colonists are joining the Boers in steadily increasing numbers. The executions of commandant Lotter (October 11, 1901), and Commandant Scheepers (January 18, 1902) have had the result of deciding the loyalists to join the Boers, whose position is persistently reported to be more favorable than ever."

The same private advices assert that the British suffered a dozen defeats from September to November, 1901, of which no mention is made in Lord Kitchener's reports.

The Daily News, commenting upon this dispatch, confesses that its statements are probably exaggerated, but is of opinion that the denial of Mr. Belfour, the government leader in the house of commons, that there had been any Boer overtures for peace, points to the fact that the Boers believe their position to be less desperate than is generally supposed.

BURNS ELECTED MAJOR.

Senior Captain of Sixteenth Regiment, N. G. P., Gets Promotion.

OIL CITY PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Gen. Willis Hulings presided at the election of a third major for the Sixteenth regiment, N. G. P., at the Hotel Arlington this evening. Capt. A. D. Burns of Company C, Bradford, senior captain of the regiment, was the unanimous choice of the officers for the new position.

The election of a colonel for the regiment will be held in this city next month. There has been considerable talk of candidates coming out against Gen. Hulings, who will stand for re-election, but his many friends feel that there will be no doubt of him succeeding himself in the position he has held for so many years, with honor to the state guard and himself.

Dr. Watson Dying.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—A telegram was received here today by the relatives of Dr. H. C. Watson, at one time coronor of Beaver county, announcing that he was lying at the point of death at Duluth, Minn. Dr. Watson is the father of Capt. Harry Watson of Company B, Tenth regiment, N. G. P., and who was with the regiment in the Philippines.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Most Famous Remedy in the World, It Makes People Well.

The nerves control and determine the health of every function of the brain and body.

More than nine-tenths of all diseases that are not infectious are known by every physician to be merely the local symptoms of a coming break-down of the nervous system.

In one person the diseased condition of the nerves manifests itself in insomnia; in another by indigestion; in another by rheumatism; some organ of the human body becomes affected, and refuses to perform its proper work.

When these symptoms begin to show themselves, medicine today knows but this one remedy, the famous discovery of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., whose wonderful achievement has spread the fame of one of this country's greatest universities. No other remedy was ever universally prescribed by physicians. It was by the advice of the most eminent practitioners in the country that this great remedy was first put within the reach of the public. Paine's Celery Compound is not in any way a patent medicine. It is so superior to all the so-called remedies that no serious comparison can be made between them.

The formula of Paine's Celery Compound has been freely furnished from the first to reputable physicians anywhere, and the thousands of authenticated cases that are reported yearly by physicians of every school have proved beyond question that in every case of dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism or other diseases, that imply impaired nerves, Paine's Celery Compound invariably gives lasting relief.

It succeeds again and again in completely curing diseases where everything else has failed. It is the only prepared remedy in the world that is openly and publicly indorsed by medical journals. A single trial of Paine's Celery Compound will convince anyone that it accomplishes in every case all that it is claimed to do.

all over this store, and to-day should be just as active.

Of course so many buyers clean out big lots of goods, especially when so underpriced as they have been.

We are in earnest in this Inventory Sale. Plenty of good items here in goods many people are interested in.

All Wool Albatross, 45c a Yard.

Of the 4,400 yards announced yesterday there will be left something like 1,400 yards for today's selling. This is splendid goods—nothing flimsy about it—as pure wool as anything of wool can be.

Women know what use to make of it, so there would be no thanks for us if we should specify.

All the colors wanted. Choose at 45c a yard.

Satin Stripe Challis, 28c a Yard.

Neat printings, very neat. All kinds of delightful colors. But let us advise haste. It is so unusual for Satin Stripe Challis to sell for such a low figure as 28c that it is being picked off at a pretty rapid gait.

50-inch Wide Suitings, 78c a Yard.

A popular Tweed that sold for $1.25. Makes up splendidly—there we are again telling women what they already know. Blue, brown, gray and oxford mixtures.

Black and Colored Cheviot, 45c a Yard.

It's all wool—really an extraordinary quality for its first price, 65c.

About 1,120 yards of a surplus.

The Linings for the Above.

Quite natural to bring in Linings along with such a fine quartette as the foregoing dress goods.

A fine lot of absolutely stainless Black Percaline—therefore fast black—for 7½c a yard. Formerly sold for 12½c.

Special Item Concerning Girls' Wear.

This from the second floor department, where special values in Coats and Ulsters are always found.

A new lot of Girls' Long Coats in excellent double faced cloth of a bluish color. For girls 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. The price is $7.65—but they are regular $11 Coats.

RAILWAY KING EXPLAINS BIG TRANSACTIONS

James J. Hill Says Burlington Purchase Was the Result of Necessity.

SUPPLIES NEEDED FUEL

President of the Great Northern Railway Testifies Before the Inter-State Commerce Commission at Chicago.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—James J. Hill, president of the Northern Securities Company, and president of the Great Northern Railway Company, testified for three and one-quarter hours before the interstate commerce commission here today. In answer to questions tending to show the effect of the community of interests plan on rates the veteran railroader declared that competition does not lower rates, but on the contrary, he believed that it advanced them. He declared that in the northwest, where for 25 years the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern have been at peace, where one road has agreed with the other on rates and maintained the agreements, rates were lower than in any other part of the country.

Buying of the Burlington.

In regard to the purchase of the Burlington by the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern, Mr. Hill declared that the purchase was a matter of necessity and was not due to "a movement in line with the trust idea." He testified to the information of the Northern Securities Company and in doing so gave a reason far more simple than has generally been conjectured.

"There are some old men—some very old men—interested in the management of the Great Northern," said he. "Two of them are over 80, and several over 70 years. They wanted to form a close corporation into which they could confide their interests with the assurance that the road would be managed along the lines which have made it a success. It was to have taken over one-third of the stock of the road.

President Hill in Earnest.

"The plan seemed a good one, and then it was proposed to let all the stockholders in—not alone the few owners of the one-third—but all of them. The plan met with approval and then it broadened into the idea of taking in the Northern Pacific also. The roads had worked in harmony for 20 years and the change in the holder of the securities would make no difference. It can make no difference, and will make no difference."

Mr. Hill talked vigorously and earnestly. At the close of the session, when Chairman Knapp offered to allow Mr. Hill to leave for New York if the latter felt that staying in Chicago would inconvenience him seriously. Mr. Hill declared that his time belonged to the commission, and that he desired in every way to aid them to the extent of his ability. Chairman Knapp thereupon said that Mr. Hill would be again called to the stand tomorrow morning.

BLOWERS IN DEMAND.

American Window Glass Company Publishes Schedule of the Promised Advance.

MUNCIE, IND., Jan. 24.—T. D. Warwick, inspector for the western district of the American Window Glass Company, has received official information from Superintendent George E. Moore regarding the increase in wages announced for the skilled workmen of the four trades offered by that company, as follows: Single strength blowers and gatherers, 15 per cent; double strength blowers and gatherers, 10 per cent; single strength cutters and flatteners, 10 per cent; double strength cutters and flatteners, 10 per cent.

President Burns and his board today decided to take back all workmen without restrictions or fines. The workmen referred to are the men who seceded from L. A. 300 and are now members of the organization headed by President Denny.

The men left the parent organization during the conflict of two years ago. President Burns and the American company and its allies are now assailing the independents. At the same time President Burns opens the door for his old men to return without the restrictions he has heretofore placed upon them.

Fog Causes Fatal Wreck.

OMAHA, NEB., Jan. 24.—One trainman was killed and six others injured in a freight wreck in the Burlington yards in this city today. The wreck was caused by a collision during a heavy fog.

CAPITAL STOCK INCREASED.

Annual Meeting of Paris Medicine Company, Held at Paris, Tenn.

From the St. Louis Republic.

The annual meeting of the Paris Medicine Company of St. Louis was held last Tuesday at Paris, Tenn. The capital stock was increased to $50,000. The statements showed that the company did the largest and most profitable business of its career last year. E. W. Grove, the organizer of the company was re-elected president, A. H. Duncan vice president and F. L. Seely, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Seely is in charge of the St. Louis office at No. 2624 Pine street. He said the business of the company is growing rapidly, and that its product had been received with favor all over the world. The sales of Laxative Bromo-Quinine last year were nearly 6,000,000 boxes, and the prospects are that the number will be greatly increased this year.

The Bromo-Quinine Tablets were first made at Paris, Tenn. The first building was an unpretentious structure, and the tablets were made in small quantities. The merit of the medicine was soon discovered, and the orders came in so rapidly that the company was compelled to move into larger quarters and the small factory gave place to one giving employment to a large number of persons, so that at the present time they consume 10 tons of quinine annually.

A handsome office and warehouse is maintained in this city. Shortly after the business was established it was found advisable to make this city the principal distributing point. Mr. and Mrs. Seely made a tour of the world, in the interest of the company, and while in Paris, Tenn., Mr. Seely gave stereopticon lectures.

Our readers have no doubt become familiar with the reading notice headed, "To Cure a Cold in One Day," which has been advertised continuously for years, and those who have never used Laxative Bromo-Quinine for a cold or grip should give the celebrated remedy a trial. Every druggist in the country sells it.

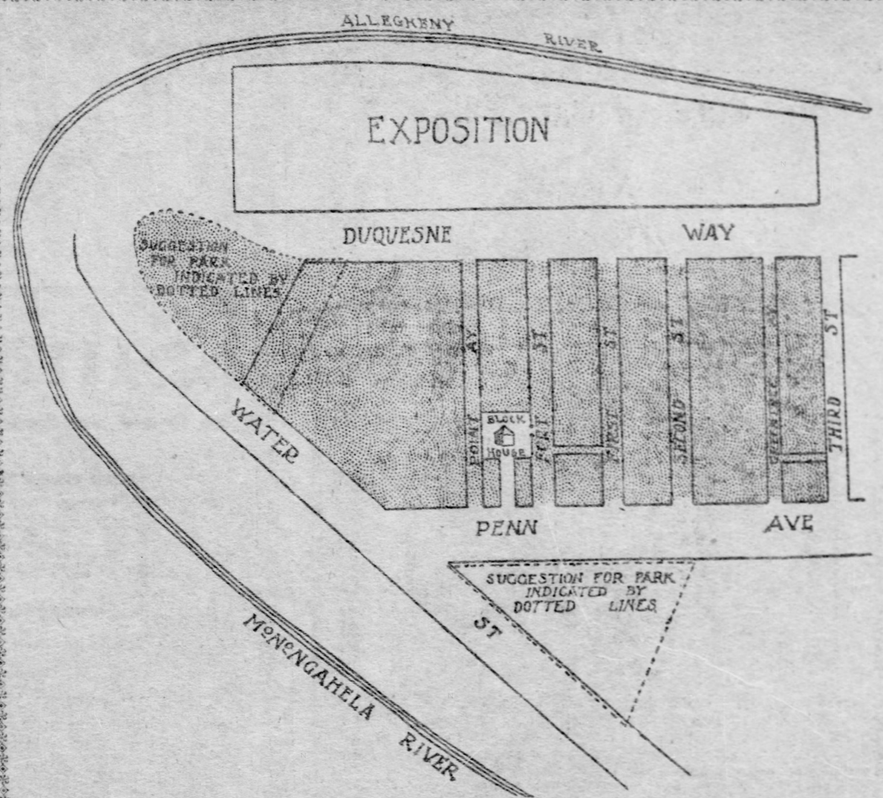
BLOCK HOUSE PARK IS SUGGESTED



PROPOSED NEW SITES FOR THE BLOCKHOUSE.

The Historic Building Could Be Moved to Either of These Places and a Small Park Put Around It. Both Sites Are as Near the Original Location of Old Fort Duquesne as the Present One.

The above diagram shows the surroundings of the old Block House, and how its present site will be affected by the improvements now contemplated. The warehouse syndicate has obtained possession of all the ground from Third avenue to the Point, lying between Duquesne way and Penn avenue, including all the cross streets, with the exception of the little plot on which The Block House stands, and a 10-foot alley, from Penn avenue, which was deeded to the Daughters of the American Revolution, so as to provide an entrance to the Block House. Even with Fort street now open, the old Block House is in an out of the way place, shut off from view, until one arrives at its door. The surrounding buildings are mostly old shanties, the removal of which will be a great improvement to the whole section. The shaded portion of the map shows how the syndicate property will surround the Block House, leaving it in what would be practically a well. Agitation of the subject has had the effect of directing public attention to the necessity of providing a site for the Block House, which will be protected from encroachments, and which will bring this venerable memorial into public view. Two sites have been suggested, both in the area of old Fort Pitt. One of these sites is the tip of the Point district, between the two rivers, the other is the angle, between Penn avenue and Water streets, not far from where the Block House is now situated, and in a location which is said to be more nearly the site of old Fort Pitt than the spot now occupied by the Block House. It is further urged, in support of this project, that it will provide a public park in the lower part of the city, which will always have a resident population.

The controversy which has arisen over the proposed location of immense warehouses in the Point district has attracted widespread attention. The Allegheny county society of the Daughters of the American Revolution has been fighting the project fiercely on account of the location of the historic block house, practically in the center of the territory on which it is proposed to erect the warehouses.

The warehouse syndicate has purchased practically all the property between Penn avenue, Duquesne way and Third street and the streets and alleys between Third street and the Point have been vacated by Pittsburgh councils to further the project. The Daughters of the American Revolution have refused every offer for their property, which was deeded to them by Mrs. Mary E. Schenley, to whose estate almost the entire Point district belonged.

Removal Suggested.

Suggestions were made to remove the block house to one of the city parks, where it could be located in a more favorable spot than down in the squalid district in which it now stands. The Daughters of the American Revolution absolutely refused to consider any proposition of the kind and made an effort to stop the street vacations in that section when they were considered by councils.

A compromise has been suggested which would entirely obviate the trouble now existing, provided it meets with the approval of the warehouse syndicate and the Daughters of the American Revolution. The new plan is to move the block house from its present position between Fort street and Point alley, further down toward the Point, where there is a considerable space of vacant ground, or to a location on the point of land between Penn avenue and Water street.

Park Might Be Made.

Either of these locations might be transformed into a small park which would be a fitting place for the block house and at the same time preserve a small part of the historic ground at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers.

Between the intersection of Duquesne way and Water street and at the junction of the rivers is a considerable space of vacant ground. Along the Allegheny river front the buildings of the Western Pennsylvania Exposition society take up all the space to the Union bridge. On the Monongahela river front there is a high causeway leading up to the Point bridge. The vacant property for one proposed park lies between the causeway and Duquesne way. The extension of Water street passes along just under the causeway to the intersection with Duquesne way, a short distance from the Union bridge.

May Exchange Holdings.

With the proposition of the warehouse syndicate to bring the Pennsylvania railroad tracks down Duquesne way to Fort street or Point alley and so into the warehouses, the present location of the block house will be a stumbling block. If the syndicate agrees to give up a slice of the lower end of its holdings, as suggested, with the consent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the block house could be moved, thus leaving a clear space for the warehouses and railroad tracks, while the block house would remain at the junction of the two rivers, where it has been placed by the history of almost a century and a half.

A Peculiar Location.

The location of the old fort will necessitate the building of warehouses all around it, which would cost the syndicate a great deal of space and make at least one of the buildings very irregular. The block house sits 90 feet from Penn avenue, between Fort street and Point alley.

If the Daughters of the American Revolution favor either plan it is possible an agreement may be reached. To provide space for a park it would be necessary for the city to give up part of the river front property, but after vacating so many streets for the syndicate there can surely be no objection to vacating a small piece of property which is almost valueless as it now stands and it not devoted to any special purpose.

Daughters Are Opposed.

A number of the members of the Allegheny County Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution are settled in their opinion that the block house shall not be moved. Other members of the society, while not so determined, are willing to oppose the moving of the old fort. The members to whom the plan of compromise was suggested all pronounced against it.

Miss Matilda W. Denny, a former regent of the President chapter, and president of the Allegheny County society, said, "I don't think we are ready to agree to any proposition at all which will include the moving of the block house. We would much prefer to keep the old building just where it stands today."

Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, another prominent member of the local chapter, is equally strong in her opposition to a change of location. She said: "The Daughters would never sanction the moving of the block house. We have been approached and asked to move it to Schenley park and refused.

Will Never Consent.

"We will not consent to have it moved at all. We refused one offer and will refuse any others. The block house must stand where it is."

Miss Julia Morgan Harding, another of the influential members of the chapter and an intimate friend of Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, the regent of the Pittsburgh chapter, is strongly opposed to any plan for moving the historic fort. She said: "I would'nt think of it at all. I am also quite sure that none of our officials would consider such a plan for a moment. While I cannot speak for Mrs. Ammon, I think she will be opposed to any suggestion to change the location of the block house. We have taken our stand and we intend to stay where we are and fight. We believe that we have the sentiment of the whole city with us and we will be firm." The place for the block house is just where it stands today."

The following letter was received by The Gazette yesterday:

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 23, 1902.
To the Editor of The Pittsburgh Gazette:

No one can view the persistent efforts of the members of the D. A. R. without admiring the zeal and energy devoted to their cause. It is to be presumed that our citizens will promptly and earnestly support any patriotic and practical movement which will result in preserving, for the education and inspiration of our people, an historic monument, so dear to this community as the "Block House."

Let us hope that this agitation will not only have an effect upon our people at large, but will also stimulate the D. A. R. to mark with suitable tablets the location of such spots as Fort Pitt, Fort Lafayette, Braddock's field, and also the Arsenal, which was founded in 1814 and has been the scene of activity of three wars.

While it is true that a close perusal of the history, published by the D. A. R., does not reveal the use of the "Block House" for the purpose for which it was intended, but rather as part of the residence of Isaac Craig, who occupied it shortly after its erection, yet it is a significant of historic events that entered largely into the foundation of Pittsburgh, and some measures should be taken to maintain it intact, and with appropriate surroundings. The question naturally arises as to the best means of gaining results. Cannot some condition be reached which will give to the "Block House" greater prominence and a better location, and at the same time promote the establishment of the vast warehouse system, the benefits of which should not be entirely overlooked?

The ladies can afford to look at the practical as well as the sentimental side. They have reason to consider several incontrovertable facts in connection with the case. In the first place the property cannot be taken away from them; the second place, they cannot take away property belonging to the warehouse syndicate; the third place, it seems that the improvement is to go ahead, which will leave them in a well.

The bargain, which they entered into when they accepted the gift, should be squarely considered at the present time, and the best and ardor of some of the members should not permit them to demand new conditions for their gift.

I find on page 37 of their history the following: "An ordinance to close Fort street passed the city councils some years ago, but it has never been enforced. As soon as that ordinance is carried into effect the line of the "Block House" property will be extended to the middle of the street, when the passageway to Penn avenue will be opened and a substantial fence take the place of the temporary one at present on the ground."

Nothing can be clearer than that there was an agreement to close Fort street; and that the expected entrance was to be from Penn avenue, all of which is the situation in which the D. A. R. are today.

Should Not Be Arbitrary.

Therefore, they must consider with what justice they can complain against their neighbor for building on his own property.

Arbitrary conclusions, either on the part of the syndicate or on the part of the D. A. R. at this time will not lead to good results.

The value of the "Block House," from an historic standpoint, does not lie so much in the actual brick, mortar and wood, of which it is constructed, or in the soil or the actual earth on which it stands. The "Block House" is a memorial of a fixed locality. The entire environment about the "Block House" should be equal in sentiment and association to the very ground upon which the building sets.

As a matter of fact, Fort Pitt was southwest of the "Block House." It lay between Penn avenue and West street, fronting on the Monongahela river.

There is a spur of land at the corner of Water and Penn avenue, at the south side of Penn; this spot overlooks both rivers, is reached by the traction lines and is in the most public positionfor the whole Point district. It has a prominence which the "Block House" does not have, even if it remained where it is, and the ladies succeeded in getting a widhr outlet to Penn avenue.

A Suitable Spot.

This piece of ground was quite as much the scene of the early struggles of our ancestors as that located on Fort street, and possibly considerably more so. At any rate, it is part of the whole, and would be a most fitting location for the Block House." There never could be any interference by buildings or railroads. The space about it could be made into a beautiful park, resulting in a very interesting environment.

I do not see how any removal would be possible, after the walls of the warehouses are erected and, therefore, whatever is done should be determined at an early date.

Of course I cannot anticipate how well ... received, either ... the warehouses syndicate's suggestion, and I earnestly hope that my fellow women will consider it worthy of their calm judgment.

A compromise now, on an honorable basis, is better than regrets later.

POLICE THINK NEGRO KILLED HIS EMPLOYER

Bath Attendant Surrenders Diamonds of Murdered Business Man.

NEW EVIDENCE IS FOUND

St. Louis Detectives Working Hard to Solve the Mystery Surrounding the Killing of Alexander Dean Cooper.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24.—The police are putting forth every effort to throw some light on the mysterious murder of Alexander Dean Cooper, the wealthy business man, who was killed in a Turkish bathhouse Wednesday night.

Strother confessed to Chief Desmond this evening that he had taken the diamond ring and the diamond stud found in the basement of the bathhouse. This confession was made after a severe questioning given the negro at the four courts on the return from the visit to the scene of the crime made by Chief Desmond and Strother this morning. Strother says he took the diamonds at the murdered man's request. He says that Cooper told him he expected a visit "from a party that would rob a snake."

Strother says he had the diamonds in his mouth when he went over to notify the family of Mr. Cooper's precarious condition. When he came back, he says, one of the physicians asked him to get some hot water. At this time, he says, he went down into the basement and there hid the diamonds. It was his intention to turn over the diamonds to the family later, but after his arrest he at first feared to tell about them.

An important piece of evidence in the Cooper murder was developed this afternoon when H. A. Hall, proprietor of a drug store at Grand and Franklin avenues, near the bathhouse, announced that William Strother, the negro attendant who is held in connection with the tragedy, visited his place at 11:35 o'clock on the night of the murder, and purchased two cigars.

In all his statements Strother has not mentioned this absence from the bathhouse, confining that he was there throughout the evening until he discovered Mr. Cooper unconscious on the cot.

Mr. Hall said Strother appeared to be perfectly calm and spoke of Mr. Cooper affectionately, as had always been his custom.

Will of a Philadelphia Woman Creates a Fund for Talented Persons.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 24.—The will of Mrs. Priscilla P. Cresson, probated today, creates a trust fund of $500,000, the interest upon which is to be paid to the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts for the expenses of students of great proficiency in pursuing their studies in Europe.

The bequest also includes a legacy left for the same purpose by Emeline Cresson, who died in 1880, which becomes operative through the death of Priscilla, his widow.

The interest will amount to about $30,000 annually. Allowing $2,000 a year expenses for each student, the academy will be enabled to send 10 students abroad each year.

Animals Bought at Johnstown for British Army Are Unpaid For.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Jan. 24.—A fine assortment of horses suitable for service in the British army in South Africa, and supposedly purchased for that purpose, awaits the pleasure of his majesty's government here, as does also a car of the Adams Express Company, chartered to take the animals to New Orleans to be shipped to Cape Town.

John Dougherty, a former resident of this city, arrived here a few days ago and said he was a soldier in the British army, a member of Lord Kitchener's body guard, and that he had been sent to America to buy a boat load of horses. His credentials and his uniform seemed to substantiate his story and he had no trouble in contracting for about 100 steeds. He also ordered a car from the express people, promising to hand out the cash for the horses when they were loaded on the car. That was the last seen of him.

SMALLPOX ON THE INCREASE.

New Cases Discovered in Washington and Lawrence Counties.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Two new cases of smallpox were reported at Scenery Hill, this county, today, the victims being located in a boarding house, where 15 men were exposed to the contagion. The officials of the Ellsworth Coal Company have established a pesthouse, where all the victims have been taken. Charles Murphy, rural mail superintendent in Washington county, has received notice from the postoffice department to close the boxes on Scenery Hill mail route, on account of the smallpox.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Two new cases of smallpox have been discovered just outside the city limits in Hickory township. The victims are Mrs. DeWolf and her brother, James Henry.

Quarrel Among Mill Men.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The discharge of a dozen electric craneman at the Chenango valley steel mill in this city for the part they took in the attempted formation of a labor union, may result in trouble here. This morning Lewis Evans, millwright of the plant, and Joseph Blair, one of the discharged men, were arrested for assault and battery and surety of the peace. The millwright alleged that Blair went to the mill last night and threatened his life and attacked him.

Government Allows State Claims.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Gov. Stone has been notified by the war department that Pennsylvania's claim for money expended in putting troops in the field during the rebellion has been allowed to the extent of $699,146.25 and that the claim has been certified to congress for an appropriation. A large number of claims were not allowed by the auditor, but the state is satisfied to get this amount.

A Murderer Captured--Heroic Act of School Teacher

ESCAPED MURDERER IS AGAIN IN JAIL AT SOMERSET

WAITING DEATH PENALTY

Milt Sheets Was Captured at Athens, O., After Two Years' Freedom.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SOMERSET, PA., Jan. 24.—Milton Sheets, aged 22, and Lloyd Mosholder, known also as Lloyd Wechtenhelser, aged 179, were lodged in jail here yesterday, having been arrested a week ago at Athens, O., as suspicious characters. Sheets is under sentence of death for the murder of Augustus Glessner, a stone mason, and Mosholder or Wechtenhelser, is charged with robbing Rosenbloom's clothing store at Berlin, Pa., on November 6, 1901.

At Athens Sheets was known as Harry Bell and he was employed as a barkeeper, while Mosholder was known as Dick D. Berry, and was employed in a quick lunch restaurant. Suspicion was directed toward them on account of the frequent changes they made in their clothing and neck wear, and when they offered articles of wearing apparel for sale at much less than their actual value and made presents of neckwear to new-made friends they were placed under arrest.

Sheriff Saylor was notified of the arrest of the suspects, and without suspecting that one of them was Sheets, who had broken jail here on the night of April 12, 1900, since when nothing had been heard of him, sent his son-in-law, Ross R. Scott, to Harrisburg to secure requisition papers. Scott reached Athens Tuesday night, and although he had never seen Sheets at once made up his mind as to the prisoner's identity. After some parleying the prisoner admitted that he was Milt Sheets and agreed to come to Somerset. Scott left for Somerset with Sheets and Mosholder manacled together.

From the memoranda kept by Sheets it appears that two or more other men residing in the vicinity of Berlin were connected with the gang of robbers, for whom Sheets acted as a "fence," and it is probable that other arrests will be made.

President Judge Francis J. Kooser defended Sheets at the time of his trial for the murder of Glessner, and after he was convicted, took an appeal to the supreme court, on the ground that the defendant was insane. The supreme court declined to interfere, and all that now remains to be done is for Gov. Stone to set a day for the execution and the murder of Augustus Glessner will be expiated.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Two Negroes Arrested at Monongahela, Charged With Theft.

COAL CENTER, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Joseph Hagan and Martin Luther Phillips, colored, were arrested yesterday in Monongahela on a warrant sworn out by Joseph Stefanick of California. Stefanick runs a pool and billiard room and a nickel-in-the-slot machine in connection. On Tuesday night the pool room was entered, the machine broken open, and a quantity of nickels, amounting to $75, taken.

Suspicion was directed toward Hagan and Phillips, as they had left town and taken a train for Pittsburgh, paying their fare in nickels. They had gone to Pittsburgh and purchased new clothing throughout.

FIVE PERSONS HURT IN COASTING WRECK

Sleds Strike a Bridge With Terrific Force Near Cumberland.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 24.—While running 30 miles an hour on a half-mile stretch on the Baltimore pike tonight, a "great eastern" coaster on which 15 young people were riding, in making a turn, ran into an abutment of a bridge and all were hurled into a heap. The injured are: Edward Gunning, Miss Viola Isaacs, Reginald Naughton, Wilson Richards and William Cale, all sustaining severe bruises, Cale's injuries being serious.

A portion of the stone abutment was knocked loose by the great force and the front sled was partially buried. The "eastern" was wrecked. The same sled last night struck John H. Orndorf, tore open his scalp and rendered him unconscious. He is now in a serious condition.

NEW STEEL COMBINE.

Eastern Manufacturers Will Unite and Build a Great Plant in the Pittsburgh District.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Independent steel manufacturers of the central western manufacturing district have decided to form an organization to regulate prices by arbitration and to provide a source of raw material outside of the United States Steel Corporation. A meeting for this purpose will be held in Pittsburgh on February 3, and among the eastern firms who are to be represented are William and Henry Rowland and Allan Wood & Co. of this city. Other firms which will send representatives are the American Sheet Iron Company, Phillipsburg, N. J.; Coatesville Rolling Mill Company, Coatesville, Pa.; Lalance & Grosjean Manufacturing Company, New York; Lebanon Rolling Mills, Lebanon, Pa.; Marshall Iron Company, Newport, Del.; Marshallton Iron & Steel Company, Marshallton, Del.; McCullough Iron Company, Wilmington, Del.; Theodore Oliver, Easton, Pa., and J. Wood & Bros. Company, Conshohocken, Pa.

The plan is to form a company and erect a great steel mill in the Pittsburgh district.

KILLED A BURGLAR.

Hotel Proprietor Shoots a Burglar Who Is Entering His House.

PITTSTON, PA., Jan. 24.—Martin Melvin, who said his home was in Newark, N. J., was killed last night while trying to enter the hotel of Isaac Evans at Duryea, near here. Melvin was with three companions. Evans saw Melvin as he was entering the house through a window and discharged a shotgun at him.

The charge took effect in the robber's back and he died a short time later.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—Clyde, the ten-year-old son of Alonzo Kidder, was killed by a freight train at a crossing here yesterday.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Gov. Stone has reappointed W. G. Taylor of Lancaster and Edward Cranch of Erie to be members of the Homeopathic State Medical Examining board.

MASSILLON, O.—E. G. Cross yesterday attempted to work a three-card monte game on Constable Baberger, who promptly arrested him. Cross said he had taken an overdose of quinine Thursday and was not responsible for his actions.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Scott A. Phillips and Blanche Fair of McDonald, Pa.; William T. Hardin and Bessie M. Roberts of Pittsburgh, Thomas J. Cavanaugh and Margaret Filly of Homestead, Charles L. Miller and Ida Bennett of Pittsburgh, were granted licenses and married here.

TEACHER PREVENTED PANIC IN SCHOOL DURING FIRE

ONE FIREMAN INJURED

Altoona Is Visited by a Series of Flames and Bold Robberies.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANNINGTON, W. VA., Jan. 24.—The public schoolhouse was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. Miss Pheobia Moore, a teacher, saw smoke coming through a register and gave the alarm while 100 children were upstairs. The boys stood aside for the girls to leave first and there was no panic. The flames spread rapidly and baffled the firemen, who were handicapped by insufficient apparatus. The South Penn Oil Company hurried hose to the scene. This helped save neighboring houses, which were threatened by the flames that burst from all parts of the school building. Miss Moore saved all the books of the library, but was nearly suffocated by the smoke, as were several firemen. Charles Wilson, fireman, was severely cut about the head by a falling nozzle. The loss was $50,000; insurance $18,000. The building was the largest in town and was erected after years of agitation. There is no other schoolhouse here.

ALTOONA, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The residents of this city are alarmed over the incendiary fires, robbery and drunken revelry which happened here early this morning. The police believe a well organized gang of fire bugs and thieves to be responsible for the work. The series of fires closed about 6 o'clock with a conflagration which gutted the offices of the Hoster Brewing Company. The loss will be $1,200. It was discovered that the men had broken open the safe with the brake lever taken from a wagon in the yard. The cash box was broken into and its contents, $2 40, taken out. Several notes, aggregating $1,500, belonging to Manager Seward, had been tossed into the stove, along with insurance and private papers of value.

W. L. Pennocks' office, nearby, was broken into and the safe broken open, but no valuables were secured. The coal office of Frank Corsman was discovered to be on fire before midnight. The loss is $625, with no insurance. A Pennsylvania railroad box car laying on a siding in the yard here was also found in flames. It was loaded with $1,000 worth of merchandise. Other mysterious fires occurred last night within the city. Of these were the residence occupied by H. Saltsman, which was partially destroyed; the Mateer building and the Horse Exchange building of Price & Bloomhardt.

Tonight fire broke out in the block where the rooms of the Republican league are located. The loss to the club will be in the neighborhood of $8,000, on which there is $3,000 insurance. The building and remaining part of the contents are damaged fully $15,000 and fully covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

UNCLE SAM PAID FOR COL. BURTON'S BATH

Army Officer Indulged in Luxuries and Had Them Charged.

WAS THE REGULAR THING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

HAVANA, Jan. 24.—In the hearing today of the charges growing out of the Cuban postal frauds Col. Charles H. Burton, formerly inspector general of the division of Cuba, testified to having made an investigation of the Cuban postal department, during which he had found irregularities in the auditor's office, showing double credits amounting to $15,000. His examination of the books of C. F. W. Neely, he said, disclosed the probable embezzlement of $45,000 during the months of January, February and March of 1900 and a total embezzlement of about $100,000 since July, 1899.

Col. Burton testified that he had asked Estes G. Rathbone about the burning of the stamps and that Rathbone had told him he had talked the matter over with Gen. John R. Brooke, former military governor of Cuba, who had consented thereto. Col. Burton said Gen. Brooke told him that Rathbone had not spoken to him about this matter. Col. Burton admitted that Rathbone had the right to burn these stamps without the consent of Gen. Brooke.

Col. Burton said he had bought a carriage from the insular funds. He had put a bath tub and a heater in his private house, payment for which was also made from the insular funds. Other army officers, he said, had done the same. He had only the verbal authorization of Gen. Chaffee for these expenditures.

PANAMA ATTACK DELAYED.

Would-Be Assailants Said to Have Been Badly Whipped.

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, Jan. 24.—A report has reached here that the forces under the Colombian general, Castro, had an engagement with the troops under the revolutionary leader, Gen. Herrera, in the neighborhood of Agua Dulce, in the vicinity of Las Tablas, on the Azuera peninsula, southwest of Panama. In which the revolutionary forces were defeated. The meeting of the government troops and the revolutionists near Agua Dulce would explain the delay in the expected revolutionary attack upon Panama.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—The government of Colombia has offered to purchase a number of obsolete French gunboats. The negotiations have thus far had no result.

Clairvoyant Writes Mrs. Blevins.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Ruth Blevins, widow of the murdered city treasurer, John Blevins, has received a letter from a Pittsburgh clairvoyant, in which the writer states that she has had a revelation concerning the crime and that in the interest of justice she must disclose it. It is said that the letter, which has been turned over to the investigating committee, contains the name of a New Castle man alleged by the clairvoyant to be the murderer.

Held Primaries in a Jail.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The Republican primaries at Duryea were held in the town jail there because there was no other place that could be used. The election board was locked in a cell and the ballots were handed in between the bars. A policeman was stationed outside to keep away curious people who wanted to photograph the novel scene. There are over 2,000 voters in the borough.

OFFICERS CONDEMN SCHURMANN'S SPEECH

Likely to Encourage Filipinos to Continue Their Guerrilla Warfare.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

MANILA, Jan. 24.—Both the civil and military authorities here deprecate the publication in the Philippines of Prof. Schurmann's Boston speech and the minority report in the senate on the Philippine tariff bill, which they say are liable to have a bad effect on the Filipinos.

General Wheaton, commander of the department of the North Philippines, says men have been sent to prison here for remarks such as those of Prof. Schurmann, and that if what he advocates was accomplished, it would mean the expenditure of much treasure and the shedding of blood like water. Now, as before, he adds, 50,000 soldiers are needed here, and will be required in these islands for at least five years. It will then be possible to form a government based on that of the colonies of Holland and Great Britain, they having proved the most successful managers of oriental races.

General Chaffee is expected back from the Island of Samar January 30.

TALKED AMERICA.

Ambassador White Gives a Dinner to Prince Henry and Other German Nobles.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Andrew D. White, the United States ambassador here, gave a dinner tonight to Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia at the kaiserhof. John B. Jackson, secretary of embassy, and Mrs. Jackson, Commander William H. Beehler, naval attache, and Mrs. Beehler, Major John B. Kerr, military attache to the embassy, and all the embassy's staff were present, as were also Count von Buelow, the imperial chancellor, Baron von Richthofen, the German minister of foreign affairs, and Admiral von Tirpitz, secretary of the German admiralty, and their wives, and most of the members of Prince Henry's suite on the forthcoming trip to the United States.

There was much pleasant conversation about America, but no speeches were made nor healths drunk. Prince and Princess Henry remained one hour after the dinner.

Exciting Oil Strike.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Excitement is running high in the farming community of New Galilee, seven miles west of here, over the reported big oil strike of the May Oil Company of Pittsburgh on the E. Price farm. The strike was made Wednesday night and the well has been plugged up. Its capacity is being kept secret.

CHINESE RULERS HAVE LEARNED HARD LESSON

May Hire Foreigners to Teach Them the Laws of Civilization.

WILL COPY THE JAPANESE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

PEKING, Jan. 24.—The dowager empress and her councillors are seriously discussing the engagement of foreign advisers to reorganize the government. Yuan-Shi-Kai, viceroy of Pe-Chi-Li, is the inspiration of the movement. He will return to Pao-Ting-Fu tomorrow, having devoted several days to impressing upon the court the importance of real reforms and urging the adoption of foreign methods as being the only practical measures. He memorialized the throne recommending the employment of eight foreigners of eminence in various branches of governmental science, attaching them to different boards.

The scheme, in its present form, after having been discussed by the members of the council, is to engage six foreigners as authorities respectively on international law and finance and on military, naval, parliamentary, domestic and governmental affairs.

Yuan-Shi-Kai and his followers are hopeful of practical results. They are taking Japan as their model. Any attempt to institute a parliament of any sort would, however, meet with tremendous opposition from the Manchus. Yuan-Shi-Kai proposes to secure men of unquestioned abilities and clothe them with some real authority.

BISHOP HANDY

OF BALTIMORE, MD., SAYS:

"I Recommend Pe-ru-na as a Safe Cure for Catarrh."

James A. Handy, Bishop of the A. M. E. Church, of Baltimore, Md., writes from 1341 North Carey street:

"I take pleasure in acknowledging the curative effects of Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend I used your remedy and cheerfully recommend your Peruna to all who want a good tonic and a safe cure for catarrh."

JAMES A. HANDY.

Mr. George S. Chandler, 64 Pleasant street, Portsmouth, N. H., writes:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrh and nervousness. I have been troubled a great deal with catarrh and nervousness, and Peruna has cured me. I recommend its use to every one suffering with like disorders."

GEORGE S. CHANDLER.

Congressman Thompson, of Kentucky.

Ex-Congressman Phil. B. Thompson, from Kentucky, writes:

"My friends have used your remedy, Peruna, and I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your medicine. Besides being one of the very best tonics, it is a good, substantial catarrh remedy."

PHIL. B. THOMPSON.

Clean Mucous Membranes.

Anyone who has taken Peruna has clean mucous membranes. Any one who has clean mucous membranes is not liable to catch cold, cannot have catarrh and need not fear catching the grip or having malaria or contracting any contagious disease.

As the skin protects the outside of the body so the mucous membrane protects the cavities of the body, that is to say, if it is a clean and healthy mucous membrane [illegible]

A congested or catarrhal mucous membrane, a mucous membrane dotted with little ulcers or spotted with canker sores, will not protect the body. Such people always have colds, are sure to have the grip and would acquire any contagious disease that is going in spite of all antiseptics and precautions.

Peruna makes dirty mucous membranes clean. Peruna makes diseased mucous membranes well. This not only rids the patient of catarrh but fortifies the body against the reverses of all climates, epidemics and contagious diseases.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ENGINE HOUSE DOES NOT MEET DEMANDS ON IT

Apparatus It Was to Shelter Too Big for the Eighth Street Structure.

OFFICIALS IN A DILEMMA

Lease on Property Now Used in First and Second Avenues Expires February 1 and Has Not Been Renewed Yet.

Officials of the department of public safty are in a dilemma over the new Eighth Street engine house. It has been found that the building will not serve the very purposes for which it was designed. Much of the new apparatus for the fire bureau was to have been quartered there. The building and the thoroughfares in which it fronts are too small to allow this.

The automobile engine, the electric hose wagon, the big aerial ladder truck and a couple of new style engines were to have been kept there. It developed yesterday that only the automobile engine and the hose wagon can be put in it. The aerial truck and the other engines will have to go elsewhere.

The Eighth street structure cost $125,583, $47,000 for the lot and $88,533 for the building.

Henry Rodgers, machinist for the bureau of fire, made measurements for the building for Director A. H. Leslie yesterday. His report caused not a little disappointment. The streets in the front and rear of the building furnish only scant room for the engines and horses to get in or out.

Eighth Street Only 31 Feet Wide.

Eighth street is just 31 feet wide from the engine house to the far curb. The length of an ordinary engine, with horses attached, is from 24 to 25 feet. The width of the street in front of the building would give even an old style engine a leeway of but six feet.

The new style engines, for which the Eighth street house was planned, are larger and require 28 feet of space. It would be practically impossible for a new engine to get in or out of the building without running up on the sidewalk on the opposite side of the street.

Even greater difficulty would be experienced at the rear exit opening on Maddocks place. Maddocks place is an alley but 20 feet in width from the engine house to the wall of the building on the opposite side. How an apparatus 25 feet in length can turn in a 20-foot alley is something beyond the comprehension of the ordinary mind.

Director A. H. Leslie stated yesterday that two engines will be placed in the Eighth street house besides the automobile engine, electric hose wagon and Assistant Chief Robert McKinley's buggy. One of the engines is to be quartered in the rear of the house and is to make its exit in Maddocks place.

No Room for the Truck.

A 55-foot ladder truck cannot be put in the Eighth street house, as there is but 34 feet of space from the front door to the stalls between the front and rear sections. The street, also, would not permit the ladder truck to be taken out of the building, as 40 feet are required for it to turn in.

Director Leslie denied that any changes will be necessary in the construction of the building. He said the new ladder will be placed temporarily in the engine house back of the public safety building or in the annex to the Seventh avenue house.

Politics is said to be to some extent responsible for the present dilemma of the fire department. On February first Companies 18 and 19 are to be moved out of the Fulton property in First and Second avenues, and places must be found for these two companies and their large equipment. Ex-Director Andrew Fulton is one of the heirs to the property and this fact is said to have caused the city administration to give up the property.

Work on the new Eighth street engine house was started last February. The contractors are not compelled to have the building finished before March 6, but Director Leslie stated last night that the contractors had promised to have it ready for occupancy on February 1.

J. O. Brown, the present recorder, was director of the department of public safety when the site was selected for the Eighth street engine house and approved the plans.

ORDER WAS PLACED FOR 500,000 BOXES

American and Co-Operative Window Glass Companies Yesterday Got Contract from Jobbers.

Private advices from New York yesterday were that the conference of the National Window Glass Jobbers' association executive committee, with representatives of the American Window Glass Company and the new Federation Co-operative Window Glass Company, resulted in the placing of a joint order for 500,000 boxes of glass. The price said to have been made is 80, and 2½ per cent off the manufacturers' list on the single strength glass, and 80 and 5 per cent off on the double strength. The fall order of the jobbers placed with American and Independent glass companies was at 80 on manufacturers' list.

At the last conference in Pittsburgh the jobbers were ready to contract for practically all their requirements during the rest of the window glass blast. This would have been nearly 3,000,000 boxes. Terms could not be made and the matter went over to the present meeting. At the last Pittsburgh meeting the Independent Glass Company, pursuant to its previously declared policy for an open market, did not enter the conference, and President C. P. Cole has said since that it had no intention of being represented at New York.

A report from there yesterday, however, said that Secretary H. B. VanClave of the Independent company, appeared at the meeting and asked to address it, but was refused the privilege.

The prices at which the 500,000-box order was placed are said to be 5 and 10 per cent higher than prices at which glass of Independent factories has been sold. The Co-operative Company participates in the New York order. President James A. Chambers, Secretary E. I. Phillips and Vice President William Loeffler represented the American company.

It is pointed out that the higher labor cost to the American company, through the advance of 10 and 15 per cent in wages from today, will not affect its share of the order at the New York prices, the company now having a stock of nearly 1,000,000 boxes.

RING MUST FIGHT M'KELVEY AGAIN

CITIZENS' PARTY NOMINATED HIM FOR COUNCIL IN EIGHTH WARD.

Committee of Twenty-Five Is Busy Settling Contests and Harmonizing Factions in Different Wards of the City—A Block House Platform.

William McKelvey has been indorsed for common councilman in the Eighth ward by the Citizens party committee of 25. This means that the machine will have to make another battle to defeat him.

The action was taken yesterday and at the same time a ticket was agreed upon that will harmonize the various anti-machine elements in the ward. John Cahill, a Democrat, was indorsed for alderman. Patrick McInerny goes on for constable, P. J. McQuillan and Duncan Weir for school directors and Ruben Miller for assessor. The last two are friends of John McKee, who withdrew as a candidate for alderman.

The Citizens committee has indorsed this ticket in the Twenty-third ward: W. D. O'Brien, select council; W. H. Barker, Fred Beehner, common council. This still leaves two tickets besides the machine's in the ward.

King Still in the Fight.

O'Brien, Barker and J. J. King are on the other. Mr. King is a Democrat and a member of the committee of 25. He wanted Beehner to withdraw in favor of Edward O'Donnell, a Democrat. If this had been done King would have quit. Now he says that he will remain in the field to a finish unless the Democrats of the ward ask him to retire.

The committee of 25 has also indorsed these councilmanic and ward tickets: Henry Hagmaier, common council, Twelfth ward; William Schempp, select; Charles Schad, H. A. Francis, common, Thirteenth; Mark Lydon, select; George Naismith, common, Eighteenth; William Lang, select; Jacob Shuck, common, Thirty-first; Jacob Soffel, common, Thirty-second. In the Thirty-second James Morrison has been named by the Democrats for common council. Soffel claims that Kirk Q. Bigham is back of Morrison's candidacy.

Others Not Settled.

The committee has not passed upon the tickets from the Twenty-seventh, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-eighth wards. The papers will be sent to headquarters today. When these wards are decided the entire councilmanic ticket will be completed. In almost every case the candidates will be on both the Democratic and Citizens tickets.

Philip S. Flinn, brother of the senator, has assumed charge of the Twenty-first ward councilmanic fight for the machine. He will endeavor to save something from the wreck. His troubles began last night when these men, who were nominated on the machine ticket with James M. Clark, withdrew: H. M. Faulkner, inspector of election, Ninth district; M. I. Good, register assessor, Twelfth district; R. H. Irwin, inspector of election, Seventh district; Robert Waddell, inspector of election Eleventh district.

Samuel Shenkan, Citizens party candidate for common councilman in the Seventh ward, has issued an unique card. In one corner is a picture of a flag and in the other is a cut of the Block House. Between the two is the motto: "Save the old Block House." Beneath Mr. Shenkan calls attention to his candidacy.

AGAINST THE CHINESE.

Knights of Labor Receive Promises of Support in Their Fight for Chinese Exclusion Law.

Pittsburgh district assembly No. 3, Knights of Labor, at a meeting of its executive board last night, received letters from Senators Quay and Penrose and representatives in congress encouraging the effort of the assembly for the re-enactment of the Geary Chinese exclusion law or a better measure of this character.

The resolutions of the assembly called for the re-enactment of the bill or a more far-reaching substitute, and expressed satisfaction with its work in relation to Chinese coolie labor.

Senator M. S. Quay wrote: "I have the resolutions submitted by you and will present them to the senate." Senator Boise Penrose wrote: "I am in accord with the spirit of the resolutions, and favor not only the re-enactment of the Geary law, but the addition of such amendments as may be found necessary to make the law more effective in behalf of the protection of American labor. I will take great pleasure in presenting the resolutions in the senate."

Congressman William H. Graham of Allegheny, member of the house committee on labor, said: "I am heartily in favor of the re-enactment of the law, and will do all in my power to assist in its passage. I will present your resolutions in the house of representatives and will see that they are placed on record." T. V. Powderly, commissioner general in the bureau of immigration, in his letter encouraged the assembly in its efforts for the law.

The meeting was the first of the new executive board of the assembly and organized by electing Master Workman John Fernay chairman and James A. Stillman of the salespeople secretary.

ELECTION IS TONIGHT.

Line Officers of Eighteenth Regiment Will Meet and Decide Hot Contest for Major.

Much interest is centered in the fight for major in the Eighteenth infantry, which is expected to be settled tonight. There are four known candidates in the field and the vote is so close that it will probably take many ballots to make a choice. As 18 votes are necessary to land the winner and as only 35 votes can be cast, the contest will be the warmest in the history of the regiment. There is one vacancy among the line officers.

The election tonight will be conducted by Col. Frank L. Rutledge, and will be held in the regimental headquarters in Oakland. It was rumored yesterday that after the complimentary ballots were cast a dark horse would enter the field and that a surprise was in store for the friends of those who have been boosting a certain candidate. The entire rank and file of the regiment is greatly interested in the election. All the candidates are well-known officers of the command and are fitted for the promotion. Capt. William K. Reifsnyder of Company F, who was mentioned as a candidate, has stated that he was not after the honors and declined to be considered.

The election will be held at 8:30 o'clock and all the line officers of the regiment will be present. Col. Rutledge will read the orders authorizing the election. Each of the candidates will be put in nomination. Two tellers will be appointed and at the close of each ballot the result will be announced. The election will be conducted in a military manner and if the vote settles much rectogee will be forgotten so as to allow the officers a chance to settle upon a candidate.

The candidates who have announced themselves for the position are: Capt. Albert Obert, Company G; Capt. Harry McKain, Company C; Capt. Alexander J. Henderson, Company L, and Capt. Charles C. Huff, Company B.

STARTED WEST.

Trio of 14-Year-Old Messenger Boys Glad to Get Back.

Alex Miller, Willaert Burke and William Miller, 14 years old, messengers for the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company's office on Fifth avenue, ran away from home Thursday and started west. They got as far as Wheeling, W. Va., where they were picked up yesterday by the police. A dispatch from Wheeling last night stated that the boys were hungry when found by the police and that their combined capital was but 15 cents.

They voted Wheeling a "bum" town and asked to be sent back home. Alex Miller's brother, a messenger in the Western Union office, sent him a ticket and Alex came home yesterday. The other two will arrive today. Alex lives on Washington street, Young Burke on Fulton street and William Miller on Gibson street.

Local News of All Pittsburgh

Three Cities, 45 Boroughs, 26 Townships. Population 726,064. Area, Square Miles, 316.22.

Fifth in Volume of Bank Clearings. Fourth in Rank Among Cities.

Contagious Diseases — Fourteen cases of typhoid fever, four of scarlet fever, and one of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Had Several Ribs Broken.—John Lynch, 50 years of age, of Homestead, had several ribs broken at his work in the McClintic-Marshall plant, Rankin, yesterday.

Amputation Was Necessary.—William Bruce had a hand crushed so badly in the Homestead steel works yesterday that it was amputated when he was received at Mercy hospital.

Both Men Were Hurt—A horse attached to a sleigh in which were J. F. Rodgers and George Wilson of Braddock ran away in Swissvale yesterday. Both of the men were badly bruised.

Highwaymen Took Watch—Hiram Taylor of North Homestead reported to the Swissvale police that he had been up on Church street about 2 o'clock in the morning and robbed of a watch.

Dog Frightened Them.—Three men attempted to enter the drug store of E. F. Rowse, Mifflin street, Homestead, at an early hour yesterday morning, but were frightened away by the barking of a dog.

Pedagogic Lecture.—Prof. E. G. Conklin of the University of Pennsylvania spoke on "Mind and Brain" last night in Carnegie hall before the pedagogic section of the Academy of Science and Art.

Will Build New Church.—The congregation of the Presbyterian church of Homestead will have a new church as soon as a site can be agreed on. The congregation is a unit on the need of a new structure.

There Are No Candidates—Not a candidate for office has announced himself in the boroughs of Braddock, North Braddock and Rankin and the indications are for the quietest election in the history of the boroughs.

Wording Proved an Obstacle.—Owing to the peculiar wording of the bonds offered by the borough of West Homestead no bids for them have been received by councils. The wording will be changed and the bonds again advertised.

Valuable Intrument Recovered—A violin alleged to be a Stradivarius worth $800, but pawned for $2 50, was recovered by the police yesterday and returned to the owner, Alador Fabian, a teacher in the Greek church, Carson and Seventh streets.

Allegheny Recital—The 536th Ecker organ recital will be given in Carnegie music hall, Allegheny, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The organist will be assisted by W. H. Eberle, violinist; J. Frederick Anger, elocutionist, and E. G. Bush, accompanist.

Want Garbage Furnace.—The semi-annual question of a garbage furnace for Braddock is again being agitated. Many of the leading citizens are of the opinion that a furnace could be at once put on a money-making basis, as there are five boroughs that would use it.

Free Organ Recitals—The 481st and the 482d in the series of free organ recitals at Carnegie music hall, will, by invitation of the board of trustees of Carnegie institute be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon afternoon by W. K. Steiner of Pittsburgh.

Fatally Crushed Between Cars—Alfred Christopher, a brakeman on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, was caught between two cars at McKeesport yesterday morning and so badly crushed that he died soon after his legs were amputated.

Pascelli's Western Style—Leiona Pascelli has a push cart. Daniel Daly has a horse and wagon. Daly accidentally struck Pascelli's push cart and tore off a wheel. Pascelli attempted to collect damages at the point of a revolver. He was fined $25 by Magistrate McMasters.

Found Foreigner's Trunk—A small trunk was found yesterday on the river bank near lock No. 1 by Officer Michael Conners and brought to the Central police station. The trunk contained clothing evidently belonging to a foreigner. It is not known how the trunk came to be where it was picked up.

Examinations Ended—Examinations for mine and fire bosses in the seventh bituminous inspection district were concluded Thursday. The examinations were held in the court house and 88 candidates took them. The written manuscript of the candidates will be passed upon by the board and the percentages announced later.

Discovered a Pickpocket.—Joseph Palmer discovered another man's hand in his pocket last night as he was going from East Pittsburgh to Turtle Creek in a crowded street car. The man pushed his way through the car and escaped, although half a dozen men attempted to catch him. Two men, supposed to be his confederates, went with him.

Fractured His Skull—John Ginniff of No. 1 Granville street was brought to Mercy hospital yesterday morning from Uniontown in a critical condition. Ginniff had been sent to Uniontown by a Pittsburgh firm of safe dealers to place a large safe in the National Bank of Fayette county. While at work he slipped and fell, fracturing his skull. The physicians have hopes for his recovery.

His Face Was Slashed.—John Flaherty, aged 28 years, who is employed on the Wabash tunnel at Greentree and lives in one of the railroad shanties at that point, was badly slashed in the left cheek last evening about 9:30 o'clock on Penn avenue, near Tenth street. He said that he was walking down Penn avenue, when a man asked him for 25 cents. He gave him 10 cents and when he refused to give more the man drew a knife and slashed him and then made good his escape.

Victims Are Buried.—The bodies of nine persons were buried from the morgue yesterday at the expense of the county. Included in the number were Vincent Wiscolek, Rosa Look and her little daughter, Anne Mlasiek, who were the victims of the murder at 209 Spring alley 10 days ago, and Smith O'Sleness, the one-legged saddle maker who shot himself in an East End hardware store last Saturday.

Diamond in Question—Lena Anderson of No. 101 Market street made an information before Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday afternoon charging Edward Mallorey of No. 9 Congress street with larceny by bailee. She alleges that she entrusted Mallorey with a diamond ring and that he refused to return it. Mallorey was arrested and gave bail for a hearing on Tuesday. Both parties are negroes.

Want Fare Kept Down.—The Homeville citizens met last night in the school house to protest against the street car fare being raised from three to five cents. There were a number of speeches, and while some favored a boycott, others counseled moderation until all other resources were exhausted. A petition will be presented to the officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company asking for a restoration of the old fare. Some 200 names were signed last night.

Says He Took Laundry.—Pierce Mitchell, a colored man, who gave his place of residence as No. 16 Tunnel street, was arrested yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Detectives Edward Berry and William Shore, charged with larceny by William Harrington of No. 41 Chatham street. Harrington alleges that Mitchell called at his house on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock to inquire for him and as he was leaving, picked up a bag containing laundry and made off with it. Mitchell was locked up at Central station and will be given a hearing this morning.

Lost Boy Was Found—The Allegheny police yesterday found Hugh Laundry, aged 16 years, on Herrs Island and took him to the Central station. The boy said that he lived on Lacock street, Allegheny, but that he could not find his way home. The boy's parents reported his disappearance to the police Thursday night, saying that he was a stranger in the city and had probably become lost. The father had just secured a position for him at the chain works in McKees Rocks, and was to meet him at 6 o'clock to go home, but in some way missed him. The boy had wandered about all night and was nearly famished.

Contract for a Court House.—William Miller & Sons of this city, who have taken much of the heavy building contracting for several years in Pittsburgh, have been awarded the initial contract for the rebuilding of the Montgomery county court house, according to a dispatch from Norristown, Pa. The telegram states that Miller & Sons were awarded the contract by the county commissioners, their bid of $155,334 being the lowest. The work on the court house is expected to go much further and finally involve expenditure of between $300,000 and $400,000. Charles M. Miller of the contracting firm has been at Norristown to close the contract.

Pocketbook Was Taken.—Inspector William Mc Shane yesterday made an investigation ofth e larceny of a pocketbook from Mrs. C. Gerstlauer during funeral services at the St. Martin's German Catholic church, West End, in the morning. The Rev. Father Goebel, pastor of the congregation to whom the theft was reported, said that if the pocketbook had been stolen it was taken by women, as there were no men present during the services. It was reported to him that the pocketbook contained $16, but Mrs. Gerstlauer told the inspector that is contained some small change, possibly in all $1 50. She said that three well-dressed young men sat back of her and she suspected them.

A STRAIGHT SHOT

Brought About By Accident.

A lady was accidentally eating Grape-Nuts and quickly discovered the strength that the salted, felt disposed to write concerning the food.

She says: "Grape-Nuts has done so much for me. When I came out of school I was broken down in health from overwork and nervousness. Every summer during the hot weather I have been practically exhausted and generally have lost five pounds or more.

"Quite by accident I began using Grape-Nuts and thought I liked it very much at first, but the taste grew on me so much that I am extravagantly fond of it. I ate it all last summer and was surprised to find that I kept up with plenty of strength, my nerve force increased and I lost no flesh.

"I know exactly what has sustained me for I have made no change in my way of living, except to take on Grape-Nuts. I never tire of it. I always use it with cold cream in summer and warm cream in winter. This is a straightforward, honest letter and I trust it will be of service to you." Ivey J. Rowen, Cedar Falls, Ia.

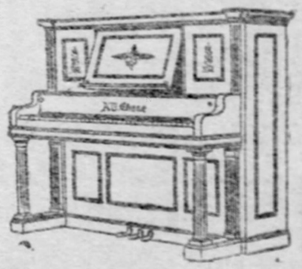
Do You Want a Good Upright Piano for a Hundred Dollars?

WE HAVE IT—it is yours NOW if you want it. And we don't mean by this that a single upright piano is here at the price named, for we have various uprights at a hundred dollars—all in good condition, too.



Our annual January Clearance Sale accounts for this. We are getting these instruments off the floors and into the homes of customers as fast as can be. It is imperative that we reduce stock before inventory. Come before it is too late. You are not likely to have another such opportunity.

Remember, although some of these pianos were rented, others received from families obliged to leave the city, they are all superb bargains. Our reputation guarantees that.

Should you want a Grand Piano, don't miss the opportunity we present. We are selling and they include such well-known makes as A. B. Chase, Fischer, Hazelton, McPhail, Chickering, Knabe, Baby Grands, Parlor Grands, Concert Grands. All are used. Some have been employed for concerts only. Some have been rented to musicians and to private homes. Others have been taken by us as part payment for A. B. Chase and Fischer pianos. Every one here is worthy of our customers.

GRAND PIANOS FROM $300 UP

Perhaps you have use for a Square Piano? We can furnish you these instruments at most attractive prices—

SQUARE PIANOS FROM $25 TO $75

Including Fischer, Decker Bros., Steinway, Knabe, Ballet & Cumston, Meyer, Chickering, Boardman & Gray, Behning and others, $25, $35, $50, $60, $75—some large, some small, some light, some dark—some carved, some plain—all in good playing condition.

Used Organs, including Mason & Hamlin, Story & Clark, Smith, Estey and others, at $10, $15, $25.

USED ANGELUS PIANO PLAYERS AT SPECIAL PRICES

This IS a rare opportunity. You know the value of an Angelus. Well, why not buy one now? The price will please you. There are only two or three in this list and they'll go quickly. One was rented for a time, another was used for concert purposes—really they are as good as new. Who are the lucky persons to get them? One is especially attractive, being in a fancy case.

Establish Fort Pitt Park.

The explanations made by the warehouse syndicate show that the Daughters of the American Revolution have won their fight so far as the actual possession of the present site of the Block House is concerned. There can be no doubt that at one time their dispossession was contemplated, and the suggestion was advanced that the Block House should be removed to Schenley park, where it would be remote from the site of Fort Pitt and its character as a landmark would be extinguished. The suggestion made in Mr. Nicola's letter to Miss Denny, that a tablet could be erected which would be a memorial of the fort, would be regarded as altogether inadequate, not only by the Daughters of the American Revolution, but also by the public, which is warmly sustaining the daughters in their efforts to preserve this historic relic upon its historic site.

The carrying out of the plans of the warehouse syndicate will, however, make a great change in the situation, as it will shut in the Block House in such a way as almost to secrete it from public observation, so that while its existence may be maintained, it will hardly be a public monument. The diagram which we publish this morning makes the situation clear at a glance. At present the entrance to the Block House is reached from Fort street, either from Penn avenue or Duquesne way. The present surroundings are rather squalid and the place is so out of the way that one needs a guide to get to it. The syndicate has acquired all the property around the Block House and the streets have been vacated, so that when the warehouse buildings are erected the Block House will be virtually in a well reached by an alley only 10 feet wide extending from Penn avenue.

We publish today a letter making some practical suggestions, which we think deserve the thoughtful consideration of all the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The warehouse scheme is a valuable improvement that will be to the advantage of the city. An extensive railroad system is also projected which will inclose the entire Point by elevated railroads connecting with the warehouses. If matters remain in their present posture, the old Block House will be completely shut in from public view and for all practical purposes the site of Fort Pitt will be obliterated. If an adjustment of interests can be effected, a better location can be secured for the Block House without leaving the area of old Fort Pitt, where it can be kept in open view and always protected from encroachments. It would seem as if the Daughters of the American Revolution had much to gain by such an arrangement. At the same time, they would be instrumental in obtaining for the use of the residents of the lower part of the city a public park that would be a beneficial breathing spot in a section which is certain to be compactly built up within a few years. Two sites have been suggested for such a park, one at the tip of the Point, and the other at the angle between Penn avenue and Water street. Both of these sites are indicated upon the diagram. If such an arrangement can be effected the Block House could be moved to the new site without demolishing it. Both the sites indicated are within the district covered by old Fort Pitt. The more preferable of the two sites and the one more nearly representative of the site of old Fort Pitt is the angle between Penn avenue and Water street.

At present there is a deadlock on this question and unless something is done the shutting in of the Block House is inevitable. If this ever takes place it will probably mean the eventual ruin of the structure. It would certainly seem to be the part of wisdom to confront the situation and endeavor to extract from it the greatest possible advantage. The action of the Daughters of the American Revolution in refusing to accept a money consideration for abandoning the Block House is warmly approved by public opinion, and if the demand is made that the syndicate shall provide for the Block House in the way suggested, public opinion will still strongly support the Daughters of the American Revolution, but a merely passive or obstructive attitude would soon alienate popular sentiment. If the suggested policy is adopted there is a good prospect that the result will be the establishment of a park within the area of old Fort Pitt upon which the Block House will stand in proper dignity as a memorial to all future generations. Surely this would be far better than leaving the old Block House in a well, inside of a warehouse block, shut off from light and air.

The Business Situation.

When orders for steel rails must be sent abroad because the mills here are too busy to fill new orders before the last quarter of the year, it is sufficient evidence of the healthful condition of American industries and of the good tone of the general business situation. In the iron and steel trades there is a strong demand and the mills are placed in a better position to meet it because the railroads have pulled themselves together and are able to handle the large traffic satisfactorily. There is, as there has been for a long time, sufficient justification for an advance in iron and steel products, and the curious feature remains that consumers in many instances would be not unwilling to pay higher prices, while the large producers are stubbornly resisting any advance. Indeed, in some lines advances have been forced against the wishes of the producers, who know from experience that the temporary gain of a general advance would be at the expense of the future, and therefore wisely put aside the temptation to take the larger profits they might have now that they may continue the present healthy and ultimately more profitable conditions. The evils of sudden contraction of business following sudden expansion is thus averted, and the steady flow of the stream carries health into all the arteries and veins of commerce that but for this enlightened conservatism would be first distended to apoplectic proportions and later starved for lack of the life giving current.

The recent speculative storm in Chicago was the thing of a day, and as between producer and consumer conditions are the better for it. The danger of inflated values has been removed and demand is freer in consequence. The export trade in wheat is better than at the same time last year, but the movement in corn is now only fractional, similarly compared. The shortage of last year's corn crop is undoubtedly reflected in this. Notwithstanding the small movement of corn the railroads have nothing to complain of, and are in the gratifying position of having all the business they can handle and are being compelled to make large preparations for future growth. The increased output of the manufacturing districts, with the attendant movement of raw materials, fuel and manufactured products, makes good deficiency from any quarter. The movement of builders supplies of all kinds has continued unusually strong for this season of the year, thus helping to swell business.

The money situation is summed up in the one word "comfortable." There is sufficient for all demands, especially the demands of commerce and manufactures. The stock markets, so far as speculation is concerned, have been overshadowed by uncertainty as to the disposition by the United States supreme court of the question of its jurisdiction in the matter of the Northern Securities Company, though the importance of the conclusion is doubtless exaggerated in the minds of speculators. The effect of the decision, whatever it may be, will be hardly more than temporary, as managing policy shown in the earning capacity of corporations is thee ultimate governing force in the establishment of the values of their securities. The attitude of the interstate commerce commission as to permission for railroads to combine for maintenance of rates has had a good influence.

Altogether present developments point to an indefinite prolongation of the prosperous conditions that have so long prevailed.

The Danish West Indies.

After protracted negotiations, a treaty has been signed between the United States and Denmark transferring the Danish West Indies to our control. The treaty requires the ratification of the Danish rigsdag and of the United States senate to make it effective, but neither in Copenhagen nor in Washington is it anticipated that there will be any difficulty in obtaining the consent of either legislative body to the exchange of American cash for insular realty.

The Danish West Indies are not an extensive acquisition, but their strategical importance, especially in view of the construction of an isthmian canal, is great. They command the entrance to the Caribbean sea, and with the exception of Cuba are perhaps, from a military and naval standpoint, the most important of all the Antilles. There are three islands—St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix—the island of St. Thomas being the most important from the fact that it has a commodious landlocked roadstead, secure from those fearful tornadoes of which the West Indies have been well called the brewing cauldron. Although the transfer has taken place nearly 40 years after Secretary Seward first endeavored to acquire the islands, it is due to that statesman's foresight that the first option upon them, which he obtained from Denmark, has secured them to the United States. About 80 per cent of the natives are negroes. Although 20 years ago they were extremely anxious to become citizens of the United States, they petitioned the king of Denmark a short time ago to retain possession of the islands. The fact is, however disinclined the Danes have been to let the islands go after an occupation of nearly 300 years, it was an economic necessity. They are too far away to be easily or cheaply administered, while they yield insufficient revenue for local needs.

Play Ball!

If baseball is to continue as the national game the so-called magnates of the National league will have to get together in harmony. The sport-loving public has wearied of the letter-writing and threatening. The talk of a four-club circuit composed of the Spalding following is not taken seriously, for such a reduction in the number of contestants would detract much from the interest in championship contests. A league of six clubs might attract gate receipts, but a quartet league could hardly coax them. The baseball season has been long an enlivening feature of the heated term and a cure for the blues. It has also been profitable for the magnates. Heretofore at this date the plans for the coming season have been practically completed, but thus far little, if anything, has been done, and the prospect is discouraging. The league magnates are crippling if not killing the bird that lays the auriferous ova. They should desist and get back into the game in earnest in the interest of true sport that attracts the multitude and pads the baseball man's pocketbook.

There is a strange lukewarmness in Washington, D. C., regarding the next annual encampment of the G. A. R. Although that city has been selected as the place for this year's national gathering of the survivors of the civil war, the executive committee of the Grand Army has thus far been unable to fix the date, owing to the lack of interest among the business men and citizens generally. There appears to be a disposition at Washington to haggle with the railroad companies as to the extent of their contributions for the purpose of entertainment, and meanwhile the local preparations are held in abeyance. An honor was conferred upon the city of Washington when the veterans selected it as their next meeting place, and it is discourteous, to say the least, to needlessly delay arrangements for the proper treatment of the old soldiers. There are cities, and many of them, eager for the honor of the annual encampment of the G. A. R., and if the Washingtonians do not promptly bestir themselves a change of meeting place would be entirely proper.

It is to be hoped that the gentleman who sprang between King George of Greece and a would-be assassin, receiving a severe knife wound, will fare better than did the individual who performed a like service for Uncle Russell Sage.

When the advancing cold wave strikes the councilmanic contest in some of the Pittsburgh wards it will fairly sizzle at the sudden change of temperature.

Following a distinguished example, Messrs. Jeffries and Sharkey seem disposed to get out of mutual trouble by means of a postscript.

Progress.

From the New York Tribune.

Inclined railroads to the tops of famous mountains are increasing in number. Is it not likely that within a comparatively short period such lines of ascent will be built to the summits of the Egyptian pyramids? How old Rameses would stare if he could come back to earth and see excursions trains moving on cogged wheels or drawn by cables to the crests of Cheops and of Chephren!

Exit Democratic Club—Re-Enter Tammany Hall

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.

The passing of Richard Croker from the management of Tammany has put a new face on that organization. To begin with, the Democratic club is no longer the headquarters of Tammany, and there is not the air of festivity and activity about that institution that used to distinguish it in the old days—or for the last four years, at least. On the other hand, Tammany hall has been furbished up, and there is an odor of fresh paint about it that suggests a cleanliness not always associated with that haven of the unterrified. When the Democratic club was the center of things in a Tammany way there was sometimes an air of neglect about the big building in East Fourteenth street. The wide steps at the main entrance harbored piles of dust in the corners, and wisps of straw, scraps of paper and other stray atoms of rubbish whirled and swirled about the steps in the wind. But these are all cleared away now. The steps show that they have been swept frequently and there is no dust to be noted anywhere about the entrance. Even the big doors have been dusted, and the attrition of many feet, which have been carefully wiped on the great rubber mat, makes the floor shine. In the office of the chief, Lewis Nixon, there is an air of quiet bustle which suggests business. The attaches of the building, whose business it is to see that everything is conducted with decorum, speak in a low tone, as if afraid of disturbing important counsels in the private room of Mr. Nixon, and each person that calls must state his business before he is allowed to penetrate to the sanctum. Everything is wide open at Tammany hall in a general way, but promiscuous bouncing into the office cannot be allowed, and the atmosphere of business is as pronounced as if it were a bank. There is only one recognized place for business connected with the dominant element of the Democratic party in New York city to be transacted, and that is at the main building in East Fourteenth street, next to Pastor's theater. The Democratic club house in Fifth avenue has lost prestige, and there are those who do not hesitate to predict that the club will desert No. 107 Fifth avenue altogether before another year has joined the majority.

The Sun Smiles Upon Gotham.

Another glorious day in New York. The official weather prophet keeps on predicting cloudiness, rain and snow; but the brilliant sunlight laughs at him and his prophecies. There may be two feet of snow in Buffalo, as there is, and Pittsburgh may have its share of wintry weather with snow in the ascendant; but New York has basked in the sun for two days now, and such brilliant sunlight as self-satisfied residents of this city insist it never seen except on Upper Broadway. We may get snow and slush and clouds before we are more than a day or two older. If we do, the apprehension of what is to come cannot blind us to the truth that the weather today has been simply superb.

Where Danger Lurks.

Union square is blocked worse than ever by the rapid transit subway operations. A few weeks ago a venturesome pedestrian could work his way across the square with some little trouble, and even at night could do so without being in imminent danger of dropping into a 20-foot excavation. As the work goes on the danger to the wayfarer in that neighborhood has increased so that one needs broad daylight and a guide before trying to get across from Fourth avenue to Broadway. A square yard of green sward could be seen even if the weather were favorable to the growing of grass; nothing but great heaps of earth, long wastes of board fence, hills of logs and broken stone, and through it all the continuous thumping of engines, with an occasional muffled report as a few pounds of dynamite are exploded below. Union square is, indeed, a place of terror at this time.

Financier and Actor.

Robert Hilliard says he has given up the stage and will be a banker in future. He was in the finance business in Wall street before he became a professional actor, and it is said that he made $31,000 a year for the last four years he was in the street. He was an amateur actor and used to take prominent parts in the Lyceum performances in Brooklyn, but the fascinations of the stage were too much for him and he became a professional. Now he is to conduct a branch establishment under the firm name of Boody & McLellan in West Thirty-third street, opposite the Waldorf-Astoria. It is fair to assume that a great many of the Wall street men who rendezvous at the Waldorf in the evening will spend some of their time in the luxurious offices of "Handsome Bob" when he is thoroughly established across the street.

German Play for the Prince.

Prince Henry will be busy when he gets to New York. All the theater managers here would like to entertain him, but it would be physically impossible for him to go everywhere. So he has allowed it to be conveyed to Chevalier Conreid that he will attend a performance at the Irving Place theater on the night of his arrival here—February 22. As the entertainment will be in German it will, of course, seem like home to the prince, and, therefore, be doubly acceptable, for even princes are not entire strangers to that distressing affection, nostalgia.

Invasion by Chicago Crooks.

According to Capt. Titus of the detective bureau, the Tenderloin is overrun with Chicago thieves. It is to be hoped this is a false alarm, because there has been a general impression that the Tenderloin has all the crooks of its own that it can entertain, but the Chicago rascals think there are rich pickings in Broadway, especially after dark, and they have been operating busily, according to the police. One of their tricks is to send a false fire alarm, and when a crowd collects, to plunge into it and lift all the "yellows" and "leathers" they can get their hands on. It is somewhat of a reflection on the acumen of our detectives that, although they have been giving their particular attention to the capture of the western visitors, they have not bagged one of them so far. It cannot be that Chicago is too smart for Gotham, surely.

Intsrested In a Scottish Hospital.

There is a woman in New York who wants to raise $250,000 for the benefit of the Royal Victoria hospital in Glasgow. She is Mrs. Pirrie, wife of the Rt. Hon. William James Pirrie, a British ship owner. They arrived at New York this morning on the Celtic. Mr. and Mrs. Pirrie founded the hospital in the year of the late Queen Victoria's jubilee, and Mrs. Pirrie says that they raised £50,000 in England for the hospital.

A Forty-Niner Dying.

Another forty-niner from San Francisco is reported to be dying in this city. He is ex-Mayor John Fay of the California metropolis, and is in an infirmary on Staten island. He is known to a great many people all over the United States, and was at one time a very rich as well as influential man on the Pacific slope.

A Cry for Pneumatic Tubes.

The Merchants' association of this city is agitating for the reopening of the pneumatic tube which used to whisk letters up and down town between the general postoffice and up-town branches. The tube was closed some time ago because there was no appropriation for its operation. This necessitated the employment of more wagons to convey the mail, and meant the delay which has been a constant subject of complaint ever since the change was made. A delegation from the association has gone to Washington to attend a hearing before the postoffice committee of the house and senate to urge the restoration of the tube service.

Patrick a Self-Possessed Prisoner.

Patrick, the lawyer on trial for murder, keeps up his spirits, although the proceedings naturally grow more strenuous as the trial goes on. He has not had any conversations with members of his family, the impression being that he is taking an active part in his own defense, and that he has such control of his nerves that he is able to bring a great deal of legal acumen to bear upon his case, quite as if it were some one else than himself standing in danger of death in the electric chair. His sister, Miss Emma Patrick, took him a box of sweetmeats and cakes today and Patrick disposed of them with much gusto. Everyone connected with the case admits that Patrick is a marvel of self-control under desperate conditions. He may be found guilty, but his demeanor suggests that such an ending of his trial would be simply impossible.

Hot Headed, but the Man Wanted.

There was an exciting time at the inquest into the responsibility for the deaths in the New York Central tunnel horror. District Attorney Jerome handled President Newman without gloves and denounced the road for destroying records. Jerome is a hot-headed gentleman, and he will have things his own way or know the reason why. He and Frank Moss have had several quarrels in the course of the inquest, and just before the case was handed over to the jury there was such a dispute between the district attorney and the attorney for the Parkhurst society that Mr. Jerome withdrew in a towering passion. It is the general feeling here that it is well to have a district attorney who feels so strongly over what he conceives to be abuses and wrongs that he loses his temper altogether now and then. A cold-blooded district attorney would be of no use in this metropolis under present conditions. Jerome is the right man in the right place, according to popular opinion.

Auctioneer Anna Held.

Anna Held is to act as auctioneer tomorrow at the Casino. She will sell the gifts for the benefit performance for the Metropolitan hospital, which is to take place at the Casino on Sunday evening, February 2. Miss Held has been an auctioneer before, and her queer struggles with the English tongue as she tries to roll out rapidly the "Going, going, gone!" remarks of the average auctioneer, are always pleasant to hear. Charles J. Ross will help the ebullient Anna in her labor of love.

Emphatic Against Ship Combine.

J. Bruce Ismay of the White Star line does not believe in a big ship owning combine. He declared today, in positive tones, that there is not enough money in America to buy the White Star line. Said he, in conclusion: "American capital cannot tempt me to dispose of my White Star holdings. I am perfectly satisfied with the dividends I receive, and I regard the property as an unusually good investment. The White Star line is not in any pool, community of interest, deal or other combination on either freight or passenger business. I cannot make this statement too emphatic."

Roosevelt's Interest in Columbia.

President Roosevelt is expected to be present at the installation of Dr. Butler as president of Columbia university on Saturday, April 19. This is fixing matters a long time ahead, but not too much so when the many claims on the time and attention of the executive of the nation are taken into account. The announcement was made today that the president had been asked to come, and that there were strong grounds for believing that he would accept. When plain Mr. Theodore Roosevelt the president was always deeply interested in the affairs of the university, and has been a lifelong friend of the former president of the institution, the present mayor of Greater New York.

Made Artist Remington Hustle.

Frederic Remington, the artist, seems to have been fired to fresh industry by the sensation created by Schreyvogel, and one may see specimens of his work not familiar to everyone in most of the up-town picture shops. Remington exhibited a large number of his works at one of the art galleries a week or two ago, and there was a general feeling that if Schreyvogel had not come so much into notice on account of "My Bunkie," perhaps Remington would have been content to rest on his laurels to a large extent. As it is, there are numerous examples of his most spirited drawings to be seen in Fifth avenue and elsewhere, and they always suffice to draw a crowd of admirers at all hours of the day. The drawing that is most talked about, perhaps, is one showing a skirmish with Indians. In the foreground are a troop of United States cavalry, white at the back, in the midst of a cloud of dust from their ponies, is a band of Indians. They are on the warpath, for one of the saddles of the soldiers is empty, and another soldier has just been shot and is falling into the arms of a comrade. The incident suggests "My Bunkie," and for that reason, among others, there is a quiet suspicion that Schreyvogel has made Remington hustle, to use a common commercial and industrial expression, although it may be art slang, too, for aught I know.

John W. Beatty Talked.

The Tuesday club met at the Hotel Henry on January 21 and after a short business session at which arrangements were made for the annual dinner to be given February 8, John W. Beatty was introduced and held the attention of the club and its visitors for more than an hour while he talked about the qualities to be sought for in a great painting. Mr. Beatty said he should not ask "how a painter produced his effects, but did he produce them." Then, by illustration, the work of Signatina, the great leader of the "Divisionist" school, on whose canvas the paint lies in ridges with the roughened effect of worsted goods, and H. C. Davis, whose canvas is as smooth as a polished table and yet they produce the same effect. Mr. Beatty gave many personal reminiscences of great artists and told something of how pictures were secured for the Institute.

Wilson-Murdock.

Miss Edith Mong Wilson, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. C. V. Wilson of Hazelwood, and the Rev. Charles Thomas Murdock of Boston were quietly married in the presence of a few friends at the home of the bride in Hazelwood by the father of the bride. Mrs. Murdock is a graduate of the Syracuse university, and up to the time of her marriage was teacher of language in the high school at Lyons, N. Y. Mr. Murdock is a member of the senior class of the Boston school of Theology, and after graduation will take charge of a church in the Troy conference. Mrs. Murdock left for Boston, where they will reside until April.

Townsend-Darrah.

A wedding took place on Thursday noon, at the residence of the bride's father, Dr. C. W. Townsend, which unites in marriage Nellie W. Townsend and Alexander W. Darrah, both of Venetia, Washington county, Pa. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, only the immediate relatives were present. The groom was a member of Company A, Tenth Pennsylvania, and served with his regiment in the Philippines. The Rev. George W. Grannis, pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Alexander M. Nesper entertained at cards yesterday at her residence in Homewood.

Mrs. Harry Fisher gave a card party yesterday at her home in Thomas boulevard, East End.

The Epoch club was entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Henry T. Morris, Lexington avenue, East End.

CAPITAL SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.

Teas, Luncheons and Receptions in Which Pittsburghers Participate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Mrs. M. S. Quay gave a largely attended tea this afternoon in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. B. Quay. She was assisted in receiving her callers by her daughters, Mrs. Davidson, Miss Susan Quay and Miss Coral Quay, and by Mrs. Mahone of Virginia, Mrs. Olmsted of Harrisburg, Miss Hemmick of Pittsburgh and her friend, Miss Abbott; Mrs. Johnson of Pittsburgh and Mrs. McClintock. The rooms were handsomely decorated with palms and American Beauty roses, while an orchestra provided music.

Mrs. Sibley gave a pink tea this afternoon, when she was assisted by Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. O. D. Hinkley, Mrs. John A. Wilson and Mrs. R. F. Hughes of Franklin, Pa., and several ladies of the congressional delegation from the state. The Marion band orchestra played during the afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with southern smilax, palms and carnations.

Miss Knox, daughter of the attorney general, gave a luncheon today, when her guests were Miss Wilson, Miss Carow, Miss Hitchcock, Miss Cadd, Miss Errol Brown, Miss Claggett, Miss Ward, Miss Taunt, the Misses Ryans, Miss Brockie-bank, Miss Keller, Miss Helen Johnson, Miss Louise Jones, Miss Quay, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Cobb and the Countess Marguerite Cassini.

Mrs. Showalter, wife of Representative Showalter, will receive tomorrow afternoon, assisted by Mrs. Tillman, Mrs. Tulloch, Mrs. Frank M. Bristol, Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Hisch. The young ladies in the dining room will be Miss Tillman, Miss Chisholm and Miss Showalter.

The Value of Defeat.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

According to the reports of the gentlemen to the secretary of state in New York, at least Perry Belmont [illegible] to be defeated for congress, while it rest the opponent, Montague Lessler, $1,465.19 to be elected. The difference is striking, still Mr. Belmont may find some consolation in the fact that a defeat is sometimes of more value than an election.

The Union Party Is Dead.

From the Philadelphia Times.

It is useless to think of resuscitating the Union party in Philadelphia. It is dead. When Quayism comes there will be room enough in it left to require burial. That episode is closed.

"THE LYONS MAIL."

Sir Henry Irving, in a Dual Role, Presents the Play for the First Time in Pittsburgh at the Alvin Theater Last Night.

Charles Reade's play, adapted from the French of Moreau, Grangolle and Delacour, "The Lyons Mail," serves Sir Henry Irving as a striking and somewhat grewsome medium for a display of versatility that is remarkable and interesting, if not exactly pleasant in its immediate effects upon the audience. It was presented at the Alvin last night in conjunction with another delightful performance by Miss Terry of Nance Oldfield. Reade's play offers one of the strongest and most effective dramatic motives that could well be imagined and to further impress this upon the mind and give potency to its tragic development, we are told that the original authors founded the story upon an actual happening in the French courts. As in recent days, when actually tried, convicted and executed through mistaken identity, growing out of his likeness to the real criminal. In the English version played before in this country, and offered last evening by Mr. Irving, the dramatist stops short of sending the innocent man to the guillotine. In the play circumstances conspire at the last moment to free the innocent man, while a mob with a rope make short shift of the real criminal. It is a good deal like "Jekyll and Hyde" in dual role, playing both the criminal, Dubosc, the sodden, vicious leader of a gang of cutthroats and thieves, and that of Joseph Lesurques, an eminent and highly respected Parisian merchant, who is cursed with a fatal resemblance to the villain Dubosc. The particular crime for which the merchant is tried and condemned is the robbery of the Lyons mail coach and the murder of one of the guards. This crime takes place at the inn kept by Lesurques' old father, and to make the circumstances even more damaging, the father appears upon the scene and after receiving a shot from the villain's pistol recognizes, as he supposes, his own son, so striking is the resemblance. As the son had called a little while before surreptitiously visited the inn to leave a present for his aged parent and had conversed with the innkeeper's servant, the circumstances in the trial are made even more damaging. In preparing for Mr. Irving's role Mr. Hyde went far to the left of rule. Mr. Irving displays splendid command of the dramatic requirements. His treatment of the character differentiation is always convincing from the standpoint of impressive and expressive acting. The role of the villain his work was somewhat impaired by a muffled utterance affected to represent either drunkenness or to accentuate the merely physical illusion. Beyond this and a lavish exhibition of the well-known mannerisms the part is played with power and force. Mr. Irving passes from one role to the other so completely, in his mental as well as to its physical aspects, that only a study can find fault for the performance of Dubosc as crudely. It is a repulsive role on the dark side, played with a skill that fascinates by its realism, and on the other hand, in the case of the unfortunate Lesurques, by a dignified despair, in the face of horrible misjudgment that is pathetic in the extreme. Miss Mabel Hackney as Lesurques daughter deserves especial commendation. This young woman has grown steadily in popular favor during the week, and last evening demonstrated the possession of unusual and charming ability as an actress. Mr. Lawrence Irving as one of the comrades of the villain Dubosc, also did an intelligent piece of work, and Mr. Webster Irving, Mr. Dodsworth, as another villain, was equally impressive. The staging was excellent and the clever device in the last scene by which exchange was made by Mr. Irving from Dubosc to Lesurques was an adroitly masked effect.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John B. Ross.

John B. Ross, aged 58 years, son of Councilman Harrell Ross of Braddock and secretary of the trustees of that borough, Corry avenue, Braddock, after an illness of six months of lung trouble. He was born in New Washington, Clearfield county, Pa., and when young removed with his parents to Pittsburgh. He located in Braddock in 1889 and held various positions about the town. At the time of his death he was an engineer on the Homestead steel works. He was married to Miss Nellie McKinn of Braddock in 1880. Beside his wife he is survived by his parents and four sisters, Mrs. Samuel Dobson of Youngwood, Pa.; Misses Lillian, Alice and Hattie, at home, and three brothers, James H., Russell P. and Richard. He was a member of Monongahela council No. 122, Jr. O. U. A. M., and of the First English Lutheran church of Braddock.

James N. Vodrey.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 24.—Special.—James N. Vodrey, a leading citizen of East Liverpool, died suddenly at Cambridge Springs, Pa., tonight of heart disease. He had gone there for his health, but was not considered in an alarming condition and none of his family were with him. Mr. Vodrey was 67 years of age. His father, John Vodrey, came here in 1847, and established one of the earliest potteries in the city. With his brothers, the late Col. William H. and John Vodrey, he engaged in pottery manufacture in 1859, founding the business that is now known as the Vodrey Pottery company. He had retired from active business of late years, though until last week he served as a busy director. The following children survive, all in this city: John M., president, and William E., manager of the Vodrey Pottery Company; Mrs. J. Norman Vodrey and Mrs. Joel B. Taylor.

Mrs. Rebecca Long.

Mrs. Rebecca Long, aged 82 years, widow of Henry Long, died yesterday at her residence, 927 Maryland avenue, East End, after an illness of two weeks, of bronchitis. Mrs. Long was born in Philadelphia in 1820, and when 9 years of age removed to Butler, with her parents. A few years later she removed to Pittsburgh, where she was married to Mr. Long. For many years her husband conducted a confectionery in the East End, but has been dead 15 years. She was a sister of the Rev. S. A. Mollock, first pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Butler. Mrs. Long is survived by four daughters—Mrs. A. D. Mc-Knight, Mrs. C. J. Cassin, Mrs. J. L. Pritchett of Denver, Col., and Miss Carrie B. Long.

Mrs. Eliza F. Patterson.

Mrs. Eliza F. Patterson, aged 78 years, a pioneer resident of Pittsburgh, died yesterday morning at her home, No. 311 Sidney avenue, Wilkinsburg, of pneumonia. Mrs. Patterson was born in Pittsburgh, and lived in the city until 11 years ago, when she finally moved to Wilkinsburg. She was the widow of Robert W. Patterson, one of the early lumber dealers of the city, and for many years a member of the former firm of Hill & Patterson. She was a member of the Hilton Avenue M. E. church. One son, Harvey B. Patterson, and one daughter, Miss Jane Patterson, survive.

Mrs. Martha R. Chabbie.

Mrs. Martha P. Chabbie, wife of Benjamin R. Chabbie, died yesterday morning at her home in Irwin, after a lingering illness of two years. She was a member of one of the oldest families of Canonsburg, where she was born 83 years ago. Mrs. Chabbie was a member of the Canonsburg Presbyterian church. Her husband and five children, Jennie R., wife of Maj. J. W. Nesbit; Mrs. Fanny McCune, Mrs. Annie Taylor, Mrs. Scott Phillips and William R. Chabbie survive.

Mrs. Clara Humphries.

Mrs. Clara Humphries, aged 38 years, wife of Dennis M. Cush, of Fourth avenue, Homestead, died yesterday of a complication of diseases. Mrs. Cush was well known in Homestead, having resided there all her life. She is survived by her husband and two children.

Obituary Notes.

Dennard Moran, aged 61 years, is dead at his home, No. 209 Tower street, Allegheny, of heart trouble.

Miss Margaret A. Hill died yesterday morning at her home in Carnegie. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of Carnegie.

William J. Montgomery, aged 40 years, died at his home, No. 1251 Marion street, Allegheny, of pneumonia. One brother, John M. Montgomery, and one sister, Mrs. Wilson, survive.

The Bradford Curfew Law.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is with regret the inquirer makes mention of the fact that the Bradford curfew law enacted a curfew law over the wives of the Bradford burgess. The prayer was right. It is the duty of parents to take care of their own children. It is an easy matter to shirk responsibilities, but it is not quite so easy to discharge them. In proof of which we cite the action of the Bradford councilmen, who have transferred to the police the moral training of their children.

THOUSANDS DAILY PASS THE RAILWAY DEPOT'S PORTALS

One of the Busiest Spots in Old London Is Great Eastern Terminal.

METHODS OF THE BOOMERS

The railway terminals of London are a feature of the city. A railroad station is always interesting to a student of human nature, particularly one where there is much traffic, for it brings together such an assortment of types as cannot be found anywhere else. At the Union depot, Pittsburgh, for instance, representatives of every country in Europe and a good share of Asia and Africa may be seen each day. Those of London are more entertaining, and they are more substantial appearing structures. They have been built with the assumption in mind that they are as permanent as the cathedrals or the Thames river embankments.

The Liverpool street station of the Great Eastern railway is the largest in the United Kingdom, covering fifteen acres of ground and having eighteen platforms and twenty lines of rail. More than 1,000 trains enter or depart from that depot daily and about 130,000 persons arrive and leave during the same period by those trains.

As this is one of the great gates to the continent of Europe, the travelers are cosmopolitan in variety. They are various in color, races and stations in life, for all degrees of mankind are attracted to the great metropolis with its teeming life and more than 6,000,000 variegated population. The swarming life at London bridge is hardly more fascinating than that of the Liverpool street terminus of the Great Eastern.

The Great City of London.

The teachers who will tour Europe next summer as guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will see this entrepot of London, along with the many other sights of what has been for so long the commercial and financial center of the world. True, London no longer dominates the financial and trade interests of the United States as it did up to a decade ago, but it retains so much of its prestige throughout the world that there has been no decadence. America has simply grown beyond domination without injuring the world's metropolis.

Probably nowhere has the teachers' contest aroused greater or more wholesome interest than at East Pittsburgh. Department E, F and G of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company have each chosen a candidate from among those announced. Each department is working vigorously, not only for the election of its candidate, but to outvote the other departments concerned. Before the end a pretty lively competition may be expected there, and other departments may become involved.

The senior class at California State Normal school has organized for its candidate, and is sending out appeals to former students in systematic manner. There is no copyright upon the method so we print the following extract from the circular letter which has been sent broadcast:

A Systematic Canvass.

"In order to make an effective canvass we recommend:

"First. That you call to your help any of your friends, and especially former students of the school and plan to gather up the ballots appearing in The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph from January 1 to May 31, 1902.

"Second. That if you are a teacher it will be a good plan to interest the children in the canvass and to place a small box on the teacher's table, or near the door and have the children deposit the ballots as they enter the room in the morning."

There are more candidates to announce today, representing each of the three grand divisions. The names are appended:

Miss Nannie D. Brown, Congo school, Hancock county, W. Va.

Miss Edna Todd, New Sewickley township school, Beaver county.

Miss Annie M. Lazear, Wellsburg Brooke county, W. Va.

Miss Blanche Mac Nall, Fourth ward school, Allegheny.

Miss Margaret J. Thompson, Tenth ward school, Allegheny.

Miss Elizabeth Painter, Elm street school, Titusville, Crawford county.

Mr. T. M. Jones, Oak Grove school, Ohio county, W. Va.

Miss Hannah M. Jones, Bellefield school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Mary A. Thomas, Bane school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Hattie E. Richards, Wilmerding school, Allegheny county.

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series does. They must be filled out legibly, and full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumpled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; sails New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrives London July 15; Liverpool, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 26; Heidelberg, July 28; Lucerne, July 29; the Rhine, July 30; Interlaken, July 31; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8; leave Glasgow by Anchor line steamer Columbia, August 9; expect to arrive New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, all persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside of the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of those papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and these papers will give each member of the party $50 in cash to gratify individual desires. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31 and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballot will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.

TRIBUTES TO THE MEMORY OF McKINLEY

Special Services Will Be Held in Many Churches Tomorrow.

BOOTH TO BE HEARD HERE

Head of the Volunteers of America Will Deliver Two Sermons in Allegheny and Will Hold a Number of Meetings During His Stay in City.

In many churches tomorrow the memory of President McKinley will be recalled by special memorial services and sermons. The presence of Ballington Booth of the Volunteers of America lends interest to the religious life of the city. General Booth preaches tomorrow night in the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock he will conduct public services in Carnegie hall, Allegheny. He will stay in this city several days, speaking in various churches. During his stay here he will be the guest of Col. C. C. Herron of the local post.

Tomorrow afternoon the Rev. S. Edward Young will conclude his now remarkable series of Sunday afternoon services in the Bijou theater. Mr. Young has conducted these Sunday services for almost four months before large audiences. As has been stated in these columns, Mr. Young goes on a tour of Europe that will embrace also the Holy Land.

Probably the most notable religious event, locally, this week, is the celebration of Bishop Whitehead's twentieth anniversary of his consecration-to-day. Anniversary services will be held in Trinity church, addresses being made by several Episcopal clergymen. At the conclusion of the services a handsome memorial will be presented to the bishop by the clergy of the diocese.

Leonard Levy will deliver an address, entitled "Gone, But Not Forgotten," being a discussion of the text noted in the Preacher. It will be in the nature of a memorial lecture in memory of the late President McKinley. One of the members of the Pittsburgh orchestra will be present and render solos during the musical portion of the service. All who desire to attend, Jew and non-Jew, will be heartily welcome.

NO DECISION IN FIFTH WARD FIGHT

Judge Frazer Still Considering the Allegations of the Opposing Democratic Factions.

Judge R. S. Frazer has not made a decision in the Fifth ward contest over the Democratic nomination for councils between the Berry and Hamilton factions. The Berry faction was the one recognized by the Democratic city committee. The contest appears to hinge on whether the school house of Hibernian hall was the proper place to hold the meeting.

The former was originally selected and later changed, by order of the Democratic executive committee. When the Berry people filed the petition to prevent Hamilton from going on the ballot as the Democratic nominee, their papers were defective, as they did not show that Hibernian hall was the legal meeting place.

Witnesses were called to show that Chairman Guthrie had the right to make the change, but Judge Frazer intimated that he was not so certain on this point.

The Sixth ward Democrats are now before Judge Frazer in the hope that he can determine whether the Martin or Dunn factions is entitled to the Democratic column. The proceedings were instituted by M. F. Larkin, who asks that the certificates of nomination of Edward Dunn, as a candidate for common councilman and George Soles for alderman, be thrown out.

It is declared that the ticket with McGinnis for councilman and John A. Martin for alderman, was the one legally nominated. The conventions were held in the same room at the same time.

Mark Lydon has filed a petition objecting to the certificates of nomination of S. J. Wainwright, Jr., for select councilman, and A. R. Barr for common councilman in the Eighteenth ward. They are machine men that have received an alleged Democratic indorsement and Lydon hopes to keep their names out of the Democratic column of the ballot.

J. J. Sullivan of the Twelfth ward, objects to the nomination of Marvin Hough, William Collins and James Kilgallin for school directors on the Democratic ticket on the ground that they do not represent the Democratic choice of the ward.

Dr. George W. McNeil, the Citizens and regular Democratic candidate for common councilman in the Twenty-first ward, will ask the court to reject the alleged Democratic ticket nominated by J. M. Clark's friends. The doctor's name is on their ticket, but he will not permit it to remain there.

Hay's HAIR-HEALTH Keeps You Looking Young FREE

Test Its Hair Growing Powers

A BOTTLE FREE.

To prove what this great Hair Beautifier will do for you, every reader of this paper who is troubled with dandruff or with the appearance of gray or faded hair or bald spots may have by mail a FREE sample bottle. (See Free Bottle Offer below.)

Don't Look Old.

A feeling of regret comes with the first gray hairs. They stand in the way of business and social advancement. Hay's Hair-Health affords a sure means of restoring to the hair the beauty of youth.

Stops Falling Hair.

"My hair is now restored to its youthful color. I have not a gray hair left. My husband says I look 10 years younger, and my hair ceases to fall, while before X was in danger of becoming bald."

A Public Boon.

Hay's Hair-Health has earned this title, and thousands are enjoying fine heads of hair produced by this preparation. It quickly cleanses the scalp, removes dandruff, stops falling and breaking of the hair, and changes it if gray to its youthful color and luxuriance.

Stains Nothing.

It is not greasy or sticky; not a dye; does not rub off. Never soils anything. It is made from absolutely pure ingredients and may be safely used by old or young. Hay's Hair-Health is a clean, creamy dressing, delicately perfumed and highly desirable in every way.

In 1900-1901 this preparation was tested to the extent of over five million bottles in the United States and British possessions. It is highly endorsed by the nobility.

One Bottle Does It.

That is the expression of many who have had their gray hairs restored to youthful color and their bald spot covered with hair after using one bottle of Hay's Hair-Health.

No More Gray Hair,

should you live to advanced age, if you use Hay's Hair-Health occasionally. It is a vital hair food.

Guaranteed

TO QUICKLY RESTORE FADED, BLEACHED or WHITE HAIR to youthful color without staining the skin. An occasional application keeps the hair soft, glossy, of silken texture and disposed to remain in any desired position. Every lady needs a bottle on her dresser.

Harfina Soap.

Nothing like it for keeping the scalp free from dandruff, the hair silken, and the skin clear and rosy. Dandruff causes baldness. To keep the hair, scalp and beard in healthy condition, make a strong lather of Harfina Soap and shampoo freely. If it is desired to restore gray hair to youthful color, apply Hay's Hair-Health after shampoo. The grayness will disappear and the hair grow forth in its youthful color and beauty.

Rough Hockey Pleased the Crowd

BANKERS TIED BY VISITORS IN FAST GAME

Frontenac Struck Its Gait and Played Snappy Hockey from the Start.

MADE TWO GOALS APIECE

Contest Was Full of Rough Stick Work—Defense Games of Both the Teams Were Prominent—Richardson and Mills Strong at Goal.

As the brisk Canadian winter differs from the shushy weather which Pittsburghers are forced to put up with, so the snappy hockey displayed by the Frontenacs of Kingston last night in their 2 to 2 tie contest with the Bankers, differed from the bewildered, travel tired game, which allowed Keystone to skate away so easily the night previous. The visitors displayed a good stock of ginger from the start, and with a shade the better of the first half the score stood 1 to 0 in their favor when the horn sounded for the rest.

In the second half the Bankers had the better of it, and it was only by plucky playing and the successful working of a fast combination play that the skaters from the north were able to tie the score a few minutes before the end.

Would Not Play Off the Tie.

The Bankers and the crowd were anxious to decide the matter there and then, but in consideration of the task of playing on three successive nights the Canadians requested the privilege of allowing the Bankers to share the honors equally with them.

The game was of the roughest variety, and the Canadians showed themselves past masters of the meat-ax method of stick chopping, and were never bashful about taking the initiative. Though two little scraps were started, as a side show attraction during the game, the play was not of a character to disgust the spectators, and only made the sport the more. There were none of the malicious efforts to brain an opponent against the sideboards which are sometimes in evidence, and the skaters seemed to enjoy the shin cracks and heading sprawls, which were on continuously. For a time during the second half, especially the crowd, got much amusement out of the free lance method in which the sticks were cutting about.

The two teams were too evenly matched as to speed and energy in the forward lines to permit of very much offensive team play, and the game was really played and tied on the defensive abilities of the two sevens. The Canadians especially in the first half were strong on rushes down the glassy surface, but weak on the shoot, while the Bankers were allowed very few artistic rushes throughout, and scoring on both sides was the result of quick work from scrimmage or skilful play of two players.

Richardson at Goal a Bright Feature.

Both defenses were remarkably strong and Richardson played possibly his best game of the season at goal. Mills won applause for rushing out and meeting the would-be puck shooter several times, and Richardson adopted the same tactics with great success in the second half. For the visitors Walsh, a 16-year-old boy, played a strong game, as did also Embury, who seems the star offensive man of the team. The first goal was scored by Richardson after the start of play by Rodgers, who received the puck from Embury. At the opening of the second half Plymister stole the puck neatly from the Embury, Walsh and Powell combination and carried it the length of the ice, but missed the shot.

At the five-minute tick of the second half Taylor performed the tying act, getting the puck from a face-off near the net and shooting in while most of the Canadians were evidently unaware that the whole had blown.

About ten minutes later Taylor put the locals in the lead, scoring a hard shot past Mills from a scrimmage.

Scored in the Last Minute.

Embury had just missed a good chance by being a little too slow after Powell's pass to him right in front of the net, when the same play was executed again and Embury tied the score with hardly more than a minute to play. Line up:

Bankers.	Frontenac.
Richardson	Goal
Henderson	Point
Reynolds	Cover Point
Campbell	Center
Taylor	Forward
Hill	Left Wing
Phalen	Right Wing

Referee—Fitzsimmons. Goal Judges—Sanford Hall. Goals—Taylor 2, Rodgers 1, Embury 1, Reached—Campbell, Powell, Rodgers and Plymister, Walsh, Henderson.

Tonight the Frontenacs meet the champion P. A. C. team, which defeated Keystone in its last game.

THIS LOOKS SUSPICIOUS.

Freedman Engages Horace Vogel to Manage Giants—New Yorker May Retire for Season.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Horace S. Vogel of Philadelphia has been engaged by the New York Baseball club to aid in the management of the Harlemites the coming season. Vogel had a conference with Mr. Freedman at 142 Broadway this afternoon and terms were agreed upon. Mr. Freedman announced after the conference that he wished it understood that Mr. Vogel has not been engaged as manager of the team, but would be interested in the team in a business way. Vogel will start out at once to strengthen the team for next season. He said tonight that he expected to sign six players within a few days, two of them noted National league players. Mr. Freedman still has hopes of obtaining Hanlon, but if he fails in this Vogel probably will be installed as manager. Vogel is well known in baseball circles. He was assistant manager and secretary of the Athletics from 1883 to 1886. He managed the Indianapolis team part of the season of 1887. He was associated with John M. Ward in the organization of the Players' league. During the past 10 years he has held the position of sporting editor of a newspaper in Philadelphia.

BILLY, THE BITER.

Mysterious Smith Purposely Fouled Al Neil.

PORTLAND, ORE., Jan. 24.—Al Neil of San Francisco won on a foul from "Mysterious" Billy Smith of Portland, in the tenth round of what was to have been a 20-round contest. After the seventh round it was Neil's fight, and Smith commenced to hug Neil and kick him with his knees. In the ninth the gong saved Smith from a knockout. When they came up for the tenth Smith immediately fell on Neil, backed him against the ropes and then kicked him with his knee and bit him on the shoulder. The referee stopped the fight and declared Neil the winner.

Oil City's Second Defeat.

OIL CITY, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The Oil City basketball team suffered its second defeat of the season tonight at the hands of Westminster college team of New Wilmington, the score being 16 to 10. The locals made a hard fight, but to no avail.

Bellefield Beaten at Braddock.

The Bellefield basketball team went down to defeat at Braddock last night, where they met the star C. A. C. team of that place. The game was neck and neck until the last few minutes of play, when the C. A. C. boys waded in and rolled up a big score, the final score being 42 to 26 in C. A. C.'s favor.

Jeffries-Sharkey Fight Called Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The Yosemite club tonight decided to postpone indefinitely the proposed Jeffries-Sharkey fight. The chief reason given is the unsatisfactory ending of the recent Sharkey-Maher fight at Philadelphia.

THE HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WON AGAIN

Large Crowd of School Followers Were Present and the Enthusiasm Was Marked—Players Will Stick to School Teams in the Future.

Yesterday afternoon at Allegheny Preparatory school the first game between Pittsburgh High school and Allegheny Preparatory school teams in the interscholastic championship series was played. A large crowd of rooters from both schools was present, and they were wildly enthusiastic over good plays.

High school furnished the most opportunities for yelling, though the Allegheny boys put up a plucky game, especially in the second half.

There Was Good Team Play.

The team play on both sides was first class, though in accuracy in goal throwing, Allegheny was outclassed. Orr and Morgan did the star work for High school while Willock, Knox and Worcester were good for Allegheny. The next game of the schedule will be played next Tuesday, January 28, at East Liberty, between E. L. A. and A. P. S. Score and line-up:

High School, 72.	Allegheny Prep., 19.
Orr	R. F. Denny
McCrory	L. F. Knox
Steen	C. Willock
Morgan	R. G. Worcester
McCandless	L. G. Cook

Substitutes—Nickel for Stein, Bauer for McCrory, Stein for McCandless, McKee for Worcester. Field goals—Steen 3, McCrory 2, Orr 8, Morgan 4, McCandless 1, Bauer 1, Michel 3, Knox 1, Willock 1, Worcester 1, Denny 2. Foul goals—Orr 2, Nickel 4, Willock 4. Missed foul goals—Willock 6. Referee—Mr. Louis Seibel, East Liberty Scorer—Mr. Switzer, Allegheny Preparatory school. Timer—Mr. Cooper, High school. Time—20 minute halves.

Will Stick to School Teams.

Allegiance to their respective schools has been deemed of more importance than all the glory of playing with stronger independent teams by the basketball players of High school and Shadyside. In consequence of the action of the interscholastic basketball league in inserting a clause in the constitution, unfavorable to the participation of school athletes in the games of other organizations, those players who have been playing with the stronger teams of D. C. & A. C., Homestead and Carnegie A. C. have announced their decision to stick to the school teams. Nickel, who is the star player on the High school basketball team, and was recently elected president of the school athletic association, was also playing with Duquesne. Orr, also a High school player, was with H. L. A. C., while Stritchfield of Shadyside was playing with the Carnegie A. C.

The action of the interscholastic league was not taken on account of any reflection upon the amateur standing of the students engaging with major teams, but simply because it was thought their whole and best efforts should be devoted to advancing their schools.

POOR OLD DIXON.

The Colored Boy Knocked Out by Eddie Lenny.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24.—George Dixon, the veteran colored pugilist, went down and out tonight under a rain of body blows delivered by Eddie Lenny. It was an excellent exhibition of sparring. Lenny had the better of the argument throughout. His blocking rendered it impossible for the colored man to land a telling blow, while Dixon proved to be shifter than his old friends had expected and avoided many hard ones. In the ninth round Lenny landed several hard body blows. When the round was a third over the men came to a clinch near the ropes and wrestled to the center of the ring. Dixon fell to the floor, striking his head and laying open his cheek. He attempted to rise, but was advised by his seconds to take the count, and the decision was given to Lenny. Dixo was very groggy.

W. U. P. Seniors Come Out Ahead.

The initial inter-class basketball game of the season was played yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium of the Western University. The contestants were the senior and freshmen teams, the former winning an easy victory by the score of 22 to 7. The senior team had its full strength in the field, several of the players being incapable of playing, but as the season is rather far advanced Manager McBride thought it best not to postpone the game any longer. A series of games between the classes is contemplated. Fullerton played a star game, throwing five goals from the field. Hemphill also played up brilliantly. Myers and Jones played a strong, aggressive game for the freshmen. Score and lineup:

Seniors, 22.	Freshmen, 7.
McBride	R. F. Jackson
Fullerton	L. F. Marsh
Chalfant	C. Meyers
Lamble	R. G. Jones
Wilson	L. G. Nervons
Eisenbeiss

Goals—McBride 3, Fullerton 5, Chalfant 2, Lamble 1, Marsh 1, Meyers 1, Jackson 1, Fouls—Meyers 1. Referee—Roger Addy.

Will Fight for First Place.

The South Side Jr. league champions and the Carnegie Steel basketball teams will come together tonight in what promises to be one of the hottest games of the season, as they are the only teams that have defeated Manchester this season, and the Carnegie Steel boys have been tipped as the team which will upset South Side's calculations. This has put the champions on their mettle and they will endeavor to do the upsetting. The game will be played at Odd Fellows hall, South Side. Following will be the lineup:

Carnegie Steel.	South Side.
Soleck	R. F. Liebau
Lewis-Hay	L. F. Leithead
Hayes	C. Davies-Schmitt
Orr	R. G. Winderweit
De Muth-Beithoover	L. G. Stolzenbach-Bradley

Sewickley Team's Big Score.

The Sewickley Y. M. C. A. basketball team last night defeated the Keystone State team of Allegheny by a score of 50 to 10, the Sewickley team having but little difficulty with their opponents. The playing of Challice and White was very good, and the goal throwing of Matteier and McElwain was phenomenal.

Basket Ball Notes.

Inquiries as to when Carnegie Steel and Manchester meet again have been made, but it has been definitely fixed that they meet at Masonic hall, Madison avenue and Washington street, Allegheny, February 5. Each side has now won a game, and both teams will try and secure this game as it means not only the championship of Allegheny, but may also settle second place in the Junior league race. The teams are about evenly matched and know each other's style of play as most of the Carnegie Steel team were former Tigers players, and Burry of Manchester is also a former Tiger, and as Manchester in the last two seasons played the Tigers in about eight games they are familiar all around with each other's playing, and the result will be close which ever way it goes and no less interesting than the two former games which aroused great interest in Manchester hall and Duquesne Garden respectively.

All Carnegie Steel players are requested to report at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street this evening at 7:30 sharp.

The Bristol Five has some promising material and will be heard from before the season is over. The latest aquisition is Grant, formerly center for Company M.

Junior teams desiring games with the Bristol Five should communicate with E. D. Mason, 427 Carnegie building, Pittsburgh.

Kaulback, Mawhinney and Mason, formerly with Carnegie Steel, have signed with the Bristol Five.

The East Liberty basketball team and a number of friends spent a very enjoyable evening on Thursday at the residence of Mr. George Killock. A progressive euchre was the first event on the program. Mr. Frank Brennen showed that he was the euchre shark of the team and carried off first prize, winning 8 out of 10 games. Lewis and Seibel, the star forwards of the team, could not find the basket and won only 4 out of 10. Mr. James Lawler carried off the booby prize. The rest of the evening was spent in partaking of refreshments, speeches, songs and dancing. Prof. D. M. Headrich, the ragtime pianist, must have gotten lost in the woods of Homestead, as he failed to make his appearance.

THE BOOKMAKERS GOT EVEN WITH PLUNGER LEWIS

They Had Part of His Winnings on Four Horses That Failed to Land.

TWO FAVORITES WON

Pat Morrissey Wore Blinkers and Showed Some Speed That Has Been Missing—Bard Burns Upset Calculations in the Last Event.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Only two favorites won at Oakland today. Plunger Lewis dropped some of his winnings, as he bet on four horses that failed to land, among them Greyfeld and Dunblane. Meehanus was a favorite for the third race, but he did not have his usual speed, and was beaten by Matt Hogan and Captivate. Pat Morrissey appeared with blinkers in the fifth race and made a much different showing to his last effort. He went to the front at the start, and won as he pleased from Hungarian and Sidonus.

Bard Burns upset calculations by winning the last race at odds of 8 to 1. Dunblane, the favorite, made a poor showing. Summary:

O'Connor at the Front.

LIKELY TO CAUSE A SPLIT.

Chicago and Michigan at War Over Football.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Disagreement between the managers of the athletics of the Universities of Chicago and Michigan over football territorial rights threatens an athletic war between the two institutions, if not a permanent split. Today letters were received by Henry M. Bates, graduate representative of Michigan, from Manager Baird and Prof. Rettinghil of Michigan, announced that the proposals from Coach Stagg of Chicago would be turned down and that Michigan would hold out for a game in her rival's home territory, regardless of the Chicago faculty or its wishes. Michigan has offered to compromise with Chicago by agreeing to play one game here every year and alternately to play that game with Chicago. Coach Stagg put in the proviso that Michigan can play here only when the game is with Chicago and on this point the rival colleges have split.

"There seems little chance now of our getting together," said Mr. Bates today. "I have worked for a compromise, but we will not back from our position that we have a right to play in Chicago."

Allegheny Beat Geneva.

MEADVILLE, PA., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Allegheny won from Geneva, 32 to 29, in a fast and fierce contest of basketball tonight; though a very clean game, very few fouls being called. The game was won by Allegheny at the beginning, when they rolled up 21 points before Geneva scored. The half ended 23 to 10. Geneva played a fine game in the second half and nearly won. George and East for Geneva and Lange and Jackson for Allegheny, played star games.

RAILROAD SUES FOR ONE DOLLAR

QUESTION OF DEMURRAGE WILL RESULT IN BIG LEGAL BATTLE.

Capias Issued for the Arrest of J. M. Wells—A Lumber Dealer Asserts That He Received No Pay for Timber Sold to the Defendant.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company yesterday sued the Knoxville Land Improvement Company to recover $1 with interest from September 27, 1901. It is claimed a car was kept before unloading its contents by the defendant company for a period of 48 hours. To enter the suit it cost $1 75 and $3 50 sheriff's costs. If the case should go to a jury would be $4 more, or $9 25 in all. This does not include attorneys' fees, which will make it a costly argument.

Suit was entered by Edward Patchin, a lumber dealer of Cherry Tree, Ind., for $500 damages against J. M. Wells. Patchen claims that the defendant, saying that he represented responsible people, purchased lumber from him and never paid for it. A capias was issued for the defendant's arrest.

Today's Trial Lists.

The following desertion and surety of the peace cases will be heard in the criminal court this morning: Benjamin Lewis, William Stone, Mark King, James A. Neeley, George Topalowski, Thomas Spencer, James Foster, Joseph Simpson, Thomas H. Williamson, David Jackson.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Viola C. Marsh, late of McKeesport, left a small estate to her son.

Guy C. Day, a minor, was awarded six cents damages from Grant Geiger for false arrest.

A schedule of liabilities was filed by Fred P. Deer, bankrupt, showing that he owes $1,561 16.

A decree in divorce was granted to Louis Hack from Fannie V. Hack on the ground of desertion.

By the will of John W. Henry, an estate, the value of which is not estimated, goes to the decedent's widow.

The case of the city of Pittsburgh against the Consolidated Gas Company to recover special benefits is on trial.

Non-suits were granted in the cases of M. L. Thompson against James Wallace and Peter Serdin against James Latinsky.

Benjamin Miller, receiver in the case of Annie Cohen, bankrupt, of Scottdale, gave bond in $2,500 in the United States district court, which was approved.

T. Lea Hernett sued the Monongahela Street Railway Company for $1,000 damages for alleged injuries received while driving across the West Braddock bridge.

In the case of Belle Bellou against the Keystone Laundry Company a settlement was reached by which the plaintiff got $300 damages. She was hurt by being run over by one of the defendant's wagons.

Executions were issued as follows: Emma J. Schuman, use, vs. Edward Rice, $464; Arch Insurance Company vs. Felix Techudy, $2,600; Edward Rowan, use, vs. Christiana Surran, $172; Herman Jacob vs. Fred J. Schurr, $40.

The following transfers of liquor licenses were granted by the court of quarter sessions: Felix Techudy to Charles Merkel, Wilkinsdale, 224 Federal street, Allegheny, to Felix Techudy, Max Reinhold, 1321 Penn avenue, to Charles Merkel.

The Equitable Trust Company took out letters on the estate of Gustave Saunders, who was shot by William Asher in a Diamond street pool room on October 7 last. The estate is valued at $1,950. Attorneys Spindler & Spindler represent the company.

The First Slavonic Roman Catholic Greek Rite church of Duquesne sued the First National bank of McKeesport to recover $4,436 98. The congregation, it is claimed, made deposits in the bank to be paid out by the Roberts Greek Catholic church for convenience, and the sum sued for is a balance that the bank refuses to pay out.

Suit was entered by Bertha De Lacy against H. M. Hough of H. M. Hough's Nixon theater, to recover $500 damages to a new silk dress. She says that she attended the theater on the night of August 21 and that when the performance was over she discovered she had occupied a newly-painted seat and that her dress and other clothing was ruined.

Judgment was awarded for the defendant in the case of Alexander Winters and others against the Belmont Steamboat Coal and Dock Company for damages resulting from laying a main across the plaintiff's property. At the trial of the case Winters was awarded $375, subject to a question of law as to his right to recover. The court decided against the plaintiff.

The will of Barbara Bauerlein, late of Millvale, was filed for probate. The estate is worth $3,000. It is directed that the property be converted into cash, of which a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Pitzemeier gets $2,000, and certain stock. A niece, Lillian Donald, is given $2,000, and another niece, Carrie Pitzmeier, $1,000. The residue goes to the decedent's two sons and another daughter.

HONORED THE DEAD.

U. P. Women's Association's Memorial Service for Dr. C. Jane Vincent.

An impressive memorial service on the death of Dr. C. Jane Vincent was held yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association in the Fourth United Presbyterian church at Arch street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny. Nearly every member of the association was present and the service was presided over by Mrs. H. C. Campbell, president of the association.

The service opened with the singing of Psalm 90, which was followed with a prayer by Miss E. D. Brown. Mrs. L. E. Duff conducted a short responsive reading, which was followed by a tribute, "Our Hospital President," by Mrs. George Sands. Psalm 103 was sung and a short responsive reading was conducted by Mrs. N. Wylie Stevenson. This was followed with a tribute, "One of Our Directors," by Mrs. M. E. Reed. Psalm 39 was sung and Mrs. John McElwain delivered a short prayer. Mrs. M. J. Steele conducted a responsive reading, after which Mrs. John A. Wilson delivered a touching tribute entitled "Our Physician and Friend."

Mrs. Campbell conducted the closing responsive reading and delivered a eulogy on the life and good works of Dr. Vincent.

Resolutions of respect from the memorial hospital, of which Dr. Vincent was president at the time of her death, and from the United Presbyterian Women's association, were read and adopted.

The service closed with the singing of Psalm 23 and the recital in concert of the Lord's Prayer. Dr. Vincent died January 7, 1902.

Pittsburgher Bowled Well.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Among those who took part in the individual bowling contests today was Mr. Trucks of Pittsburgh, who made a very clever score of 595, but was not anywhere near the high mark.

Gilmore Team Defeated.

In the bowling game on the Henry alleys last night between the Gilmore and Walthour-Robertson teams of the Drug league, the W. R. team won by a total score of 2,117 against 2,084.

Lake Erie's Gross Earnings Eight Millions

NEW GENERAL MANAGER FOR TWO COAL ROADS

James E. Simons Put at the Head of the Moon Run and Mountour Lines.

James E. Simons has been made general manager of the Pittsburgh & Moon Run and the Montour railroads. Both are subsidiary corporations of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. The official announcement of the appointment was made yesterday.

Mr. Simons has been superintendent of rolling stock for the company for several years, and is well fitted for his new office. His headquarters will be at Montour junction, where the Montour road joins the Lake Erie.

Mr. Simons is very known among railroad men. He is a member of the American Railway association, a member of the executive committee of the Railway club of Pittsburgh and chairman of the committee on labratory tests of brake shoes of the Master Car Builders' association.

Mr. Simons will have jurisdiction over 17 miles of road, 12 belonging to the Montour road and five to the Moon Run. The business of the two lines is very heavy, the coal originated at the mines along them amounting to hundreds of cars daily.

30 Miles of Trains Left Blockade.

Officials of the Vandalia are congratulating themselves over lifting a freight blockade on that line that threatened to rival the ones which Pittsburgh has suffered at times during the past few months. By concerted effort the blockade was lifted from Friday to Sunday. In the 30 hours from 6 o'clock Friday to midnight Sunday 191 freight trains were moved over the main line single track without an accident of any kind. The trains included 4,709 cars. From each terminal a train left every 17 minutes during that time. The trains, if strung out in one line, would be over 26 miles long. While the freight trains were moving 32 passenger trains were also cared for.

Will Enlarge Connellsville Shops.

After several years of discussion it is now likely that the repair shops of the Baltimore & Ohio at Connellsville will be increased to 20 stall stalls, their present capacity. The need of repair shops on the Pittsburgh division has been one of the most pressing demands for the betterment of the service. It is said that the final plans for the shops include the choice of ground at the upper yards in Connellsville for the site. A new turn-table, blacksmith shop, boilershop, oilhouse, sandhouse and storehouse will be included in the improvements. There will be employment furnished to between 100 and 150 men.

THE LAKE ERIE MAKES WONDERFUL SHOWING

Gross Earnings of the Road Last Year Were $8,000,000, Equaling the Capital Stock.

All department reports are being put into final shape for the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad directors Tuesday next. It is expected that the best showing in the history of the road will be made at this time. The gross earnings are expected to exceed $8,000,000. The combined capital of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie proper and the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny is $16,000,000, and the bonded debt but $8,000,000. The ratio of earnings to bonds and stock is very unusual. During the past years it has been the policy of the road to place its surplus earnings after the fixed charges, maintenance and operation have been cared for into improvements and many millions have been spent in this way, a considerable dividend on the stock being the result. The directors of the road will declare a dividend of 2 per cent on the stockholders. This policy will be maintained and in addition there will be an increase of the stock of the road proper to $8,000,000 at the coming meeting to allow still more improvements.

Borrowing Engines.

Thirty-two trains lay in the yards of the Lake Erie railroad, McKees Rocks, yesterday, ready to be moved between Pittsburgh and Youngstown. To relieve the existing congestion the company yesterday received 10 locomotives from the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad to use until the 30 engines the company has ordered from the Pittsburgh locomotive works are finished.

Yesterday a class of 19 firemen were examined for promotion to conductors. Ten of these men will have charge of 20 new cross the company are going to press into service.

TEN DEGREES ABOVE ZERO.

The Thermometer Is Scheduled to Register a Big Drop Today and Tomorrow.

From reports sent out from Washington yesterday afternoon and from the weather bureau stations at 8 o'clock last night, Pittsburgh is to experience weather 20 degrees colder than that prevailing yesterday. But little snow is expected to accompany the cold wave, but with what is now on the ground there will be plenty for a sleigh ride through the country districts. Water pipes and perishable goods should be looked after.

The high barometer pressure area and cold wave that developed in the extreme northwest yesterday morning has spread southeastward to the central valleys, the zero line extending into Nebraska and the freezing line into Missouri at 8 o'clock last night. This high pressure area should continue to move eastward and cause a cold wave in this vicinity, bringing the temperature down to from 10 to 15 degrees above zero Saturday night and Sunday morning. All produce merchants having perishable goods exposed over Sunday should exercise caution, and be prepared for dangerously low temperatures by Sunday morning. Quappele and Calgary, N. C., were the coldest places, registering 20 degrees below zero at 8 o'clock. New Orleans, reporting 54 degrees, was the warmest on the map thus showing an absolute range in temperature of 78 degrees.

A storm of considerable energy appears over the central Rocky mountain district. Light snow is reported over the Colorado district, along the northern borders, and in the central valleys. Virginia, Tennessee and Alabama are using umbrellas.

DRAYMEN'S COMMITTEES.

Executive Officers at Last Night's Meeting Assign Members to Different Bodies.

The executive officers of the Draymen's Protective association met last night in the office of the "Teamster" and appointed different committees for the government of the business of the organization.

The following are the committees and the members: Membership, Clarence Pettit, H. A. Carlisle, Richard Transfer Company, Allegheny, Fleishman Express Company, McKees Rocks, W. R. Bennett, D. B. Stewart, Alpern Bros., Davis Express Company, E. C. Ritchie, Pittsburgh Drivers, D. B. Stewart, Walter McFarland, D. C. Lindsay, Finance, Robert Crooks, Fred, Thomas Donaldson, D. C. Lindsay, W. S. Haugh, Robert Crooks, Finance, W. S. Haugh, R. C. Park, D. G. Lindsay, Regulation of load, R. W. Crooks, Walter Riddle, Thomas Donaldson, Entertainment, C. S. Knaur, E. H. Heinrichs, W. J. Caskey, D. G. Lindsay, W. S. Haugh, D. Shanahan, Thomas Donaldson, William Lee, H. A. Carlisle, Edward Friel, Legislation, J. F. Keenan, Clarence Pettit, William Lee, Prices, W. J. Caskey, D. Shanahan, John McKibbin, W. W. Carlisle, W. Lee, W. H. Cunningham, Davis Express Company.

The secretary called a meeting of the membership committee for 8 o'clock Monday night and a meeting of the price committee for Tuesday night. Since the last meeting a number of the leading firms in the association have joined, and the prospects are that all of the hauling and transferring firms in the county will be members. The next meeting will be at the office of Haugh & Keenan on Monday, February 3.

Platforms Still Party Gospel.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The Democratic members of the house of representatives met in caucus this evening, and after a short, but spirited contest, adopted resolutions declaring that they were without power to promulgate a platform of principles for the party, owing to the binding character of the party platform heretofore regularly made at a national convention.

McKeesport Skater's Funeral.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—All Hyde Park joined today in mourning for Rolfe M. Ellis, the young man who was drowned while skating at McKeesport Monday evening, and the home of his parents was far too small to hold all who attended the funeral services this afternoon.

Murdered by Footpads.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Another murder, supposedly the work of footpads, was committed in the mission district early today. The victim is Joseph Pedro, foreman for a large firm of contractors.

INDEPENDENTS MUST LOOK FOR NEW ORE MINES

Steel Combine Will Have All It Can Do to Supply Its Own Wants.

BIG LOCOMOTIVE TRAFFIC

Standard Oil Company Will Spend $25,000,000 or More on New Projects Without Increasing Capital or Incurring One Cent of Other Debt.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Recent reports from Pittsburgh intimating that a number of Independent steel and iron manufacturers were about to form a co-operative pool primarily to secure sources of raw material independent of the United States Steel Corporation, and incidentally for the regulation of prices, have caused no surprise in steel trade circles here. They have given rise, however, to a more or less animated discussion of the subject.

New York interests have heard vaguely from time to time that something of this kind was contemplated by independent manufacturers, but they have no more definite information than that contained in the reports referred to. It is understood that the manufacturers who contemplate this independent action are not in the least hostile toward the United States Steel Corporation, the position of the combine being due wholly to the natural causes.

Demand Can't Be Supplied.

The extraordinary demand for finished iron and steel products has made it necessary for the combine, as well as for several other ore-producing steel and iron companies, to deny to independent manufacturers the desired supply of raw material. The United States Steel Corporation and the Republic Iron and Steel Company both have notified a large percentage of their old ore customers that they will have to go elsewhere for raw material. It is estimated that about three-score concerns manufacturing various kinds of iron and steel have sprung into existence since the organization of the United States Steel Corporation, and the majority of these have been dependent upon either the combine or one of the several other ore-producing companies for their raw material, iron ore and billets. The combine controls about 80 per cent of the Lake Superior ore production, a considerable percentage of which hitherto has been sold to independent manufacturers.

Good Locomotive Statement.

The American Locomotive Company has reason to be satisfied with the statement of earnings submitted by President Callaway for the first six months of operation. The statement shows for that period earnings, partly estimated, amounting to $12,315,941, and expenses, without allowance for depreciation, amounting to $10,839,953. The surplus, after the payment of dividends on preferred stock, has been put back into the property, purchasing machinery and defraying the cost of enlargements at Dunkirk, Schenectady and Pittsburgh. It is the intention of the management to enlarge the various plants of the company until there has been developed a maximum capacity of more than 2,000 locomotives a year.

The company has exported engines to Egypt, Sweden, New Zealand, Canada, Java, Hawaii, Mexico, Costa Rica, Spain, England and Japan. The company purposes from now on to develop its foreign trade as rapidly as possible. Mr. Callaway says full detailed reports will be furnished the stockholders at the close of the fiscal year, on June 30.

New Standard Oil Projects.

The plans of the Standard Oil Company are attracting a great deal of attention. It is understood that the combine is projecting new developments and commercial entrenchments, the achievement of which will involve an outlay of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. A considerable percentage of this will be spent in behalf of the Texas oil field. The southern California territory also is to be taken care of on a scale not hitherto undertaken.

The Standard Oil Company now handles and distributes practically all of the Texas output, or has engaged to do so, and in order successfully to market this product in the orient and elsewhere, it purposes to add largely to its present equipment of tank steamships and tank cars. How much will be expended for this equipment is not stated, but it will be enough to show in the 1902 earnings of the companies manufacturing tank plates.

No Increase of Liabilities.

In contrast with the methods of many other industrial combines, it is interesting to note that the Standard Oil Company proposes to lay out this immense sum, as previously it laid out sums almost as large, without any increase of stock or other capital liabilities. The expenses of new developments are paid exclusively out of earnings. When the company was entrenching itself in Ohio and Indiana several years ago, it expended nearly $60,000,000 out of earnings.

Dividends were reduced, of course, as it is expected they will be reduced again this year in order to meet the indicated expenditures in Texas, Southern California and on the export trade. No other industrial combine in existence has been able to carry on such vast improvements without incurring ne new capital charges.

The capital of the Standard Oil Company has never been increased to meet the host of improvements or developments, no matter how large these happen to be.

Fire-Proofing Consolidation.

In view of the recent activity of the stocks of the fire-proofing companies in the Pittsburgh market, the incorporation today of the United States Fire-Proofing Company may be of peculiar interest there. Incorporators of this company, which has a capital stock of $1,200,000, are Lewis B. Daffy, Augustus Meeker and K. K. McLaren, all of whom are associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey, which filed the certificate. No information concerning the plans of the company are available today, although it was said that it had formed for the purpose of taking over two fire-proofing concerns. The charter of the company is very broad.

Yankee Promoter of English Combine.

The English combine of steel manufacturers, reported by London cable dispatches to have been formed with a capital of $100,000,000, is understood here to be the work of John R. Bartlett of this city, who has been in Great Britain for several months trying to bring about such a combination. Details are lacking, but it is to be taken for granted that this English combine has been formed on the lines of the United States Steel Corporation.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A dispatch from Magnolia, Col., says the Mountain Lion of the Charter Oak Company has struck 14 inches of tellurium running from $150 to $900 a ton. In the Mountain Beauty, up North Clear creek, near Central City, a good-sized crevice along the top of the tunnel carries 100 ounces silver to the ton.

Free milling quartz, with talc carrying coarse gold and nuggets, has been encountered in the El Oro, Hillsboro district, N. M. The ore body is from four to six feet wide, with an average value of $20.

A four-foot ledge of galena has been struck in the Frost group near Beaver, Utah, at a depth of 168 feet. In the northwestern part of the Beaver district big bodies of iron copper quartz has been discovered that outcrops 1,500 feet.

Several new and rich strikes are reported in the Klondike country. Skookum, on some of the claims on Hammond, Vermont and Swift creeks runs from 15 cents to $28 to the pan. On Union gulch a nugget weighing 28½ ounces, valued at $650, was found recently.

An eastern syndicate has bonded the Climax group in the Cracker creek district, Ore., for $125,000. High-grade sulphite has been cut in the Hawkeye claim of the Sherbondy group at Quartzburg, and a large body of malachite has been uncovered in the Copperopolis.

Red hematite iron ore has been found on the west side of Providence mountains, San Bernardino county, Cal. The ledge ranges from 4 to 80 feet in width and can be traced for 2,000 feet. An analysis shows the ore to contain 62.20 to 64.40 per cent iron without phosphorus and almost devoid of sulphur.

The new sampling works of the Arizona Gold and Copper Company, at Patagonia, Ariz., are completed. The important strike of galena ore is reported in the Tebbs, near Globe. The vein is two feet wide.

Rock has been exposed two feet from the surface on the Pay Streak, near Leadville, Col., that carries gold, silver and lead and assays $180 to the ton.

The strike on the Ottawa, near Slocan City, B. C., is widening and now shows five feet of ore in the ore in the drift.

The Metal Market.

The New York and London tin markets were higher. Abroad there was an advance of £1 for spot, but futures were unchanged. This closed spot in London at £107 10s and futures at £105 15s. At New York the closing range was $24 25@24 50. Tone firm at this advance. Copper was steady but quiet and unchanged here, with lake at 11c, electrolytic at 10¾c and casting at 10¼c. London was about 7s 6d higher, closing with spot at £49. Lead was dull and unchanged in the local market. At London there was a decline of 1s 3d to £16 18s 9d. Spelter was quiet, with $4 35 quoted, and London was unchanged at £16 15s. Iron was quiet. The English markets for iron were firmer and Glasgow closed at 49s 4d and Middlesboro closed at 44s 3½d. Pig iron warrants closed here at $11 90@12 00; No. 1 foundry northern, $16 00@17 50; No. 2 foundry northern, $16 00@16 75; No. 1 foundry southern, $16 00@16 50; No. 1 foundry southern soft, $16 00@16 50.

Amalgamated Copper and Sugar Were Busy

PROFESSIONALS WERE ANXIOUS ABOUT PROFITS

Checked Promising Advance and Stocks Took the Opposite Course.

COPPER HELD UP WELL

Strength of That Metal in Foreign Markets Was the Argument Used by the Bull Element to Account for Advance—Banks Gain in Cash.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—There were attempts to hold the market this morning by the marking up of individual stocks, which proved successful until the uneasiness of the professionals to take their profits checked the advance. The whole market then reacted, dropping generally to well below last night. There was another upward movement when shorts covered, which reduced the day's net changes to insignificant proportions, but made the closing firm. Fully one-third of the day's transactions were in Sugar and Amalgamated Copper. Except for these there were not half a dozen stocks in which the transactions amounted to 10,000 shares. Metropolitan Street Railway started upward to 172¾, but fell back to over a point below last night and closed unchanged. The dealings in Sugar were on a very large scale, with no news to account for them beyond the general expectation of a reduction in duties on Cuban sugars.

Advance in Amalgamated Copper.

The stock was lifted nearly two points but fell back to below last night's level and also closed unchanged. Amalgamated Copper fared better, the late recovery carrying it back to 72¼, the best of the day and at a net advance of 1¾. The buying was apparently by a speculative pool, who cited the strength of coppers in foreign markets as an argument in its favor. There were also reports of improved trade conditions as indicated by the good demand for raw copper in Europe and reports of large export demand here. Rumors of an agreement to restrict the output of American producers accompanied the advance. The strength of American Smelting was supposed to be in sympathy.

Decline Due to Profit-Taking.

The Wabash stocks and Western Union were noticeably firm and People Gas showed some strength on the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend. St. Lawrence and Adirondack rose nearly four points more on the announcement of the purchase of a Canadian connection in its interest and the redemption of $300,000 of its 6 per cent bonds. There was no news during the day to explain satisfactorily the reactionary tendency which developed, which therefore must be credited to profit-taking. The reports of very cold weather threatening in the west may have had a somewhat depressing influence, as it had a strengthening influence on wheat. The sitting of the interstate commerce commission on the matter of railroad combinations was the subject of discussion and may have had a depressing effect.

The preliminary figures of the week's cash movement were as good as expected, indicating a gain by the banks of nearly $7,000,000 in cash, of which sub-treasury operations yielded $2,378,000. The loan item offers the usual puzzle, but the decline in contraction added the known fact that interior banks have been lenders in New York detract from the supposition of any large loan expansion.

The bond market continued quite active today, but profit-taking made its impression there as well as in stocks. There were some newly active issues on the other hand which were strong. Total sale, par value, $3,055,000.

United States bonds all unchanged on the last call.

Cereal Traders Await Developments

COLD WEATHER IN NORTHWEST HELPS WHEAT

Market Was Nervous, but Shorts Covered Freely on Every Recession.

OFFERINGS WERE LIGHT

Corn Experienced Weak Period, but Firmed Up at the Close—Sharp Slump in Oats, Followed by Only Slight Recovery.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Grain prices played a balancing game today under the influence of traders to wait further developments in the crop situation. May wheat closed ⅛c higher, corn ¼@¾c higher and May oats ⅛@⅜c lower. Provisions closed 7½c to 12½c higher.

Trade in wheat was only fairly active at times with very little in the way of important news. The prediction of a cold wave descending on the winter wheat country stiffened prices at the opening and held as a factor through a subsequent dip on weakness in the coarse grains. May opened 1⅛@1¼c higher to a shade lower at 79⅝c to 79¾c. Cables later grew weak, and, though the market was nervous, the trade turned dull for a time and May prices sagged with oats and corn to 78⅝@78¾c. Shorts covered freely at this price and as there was not much for sale and receipts were small a slow but steady reaction set in.

Coarse Grains Advanced.

Coarse grains began to firm up and May wheat advanced to 79¾c, closing ⅜c higher at 79⅝@79¾c. Local receipts were 22 cars. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 305 cars, making a total for the three points of 327, against 479 last week and 243 a year ago. Primary receipts were 412,000 bushels compared with 372,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 424,000 bushels.

Corn opened higher on local covering by shorts and the cold weather prediction. The weakness of yesterday, however, was still felt and on western receipts of 1,718,646 bushels. The cash trade was still dull. The Kansas City corn blockade still had a weakening effect, though western offerings were still light. Receipts here were small, but the southwestern and coast markets showed declines and May slumped to 42⅝c.

Cold Weather Helps Prices.

Cables showed comparative firmness and later the cold weather got to its bullish effects. There was a disposition to be a waiting tendency in the pit, and though there was some fair buying it took May up only to 43c. The close was steady, ¼@⅜c higher, at 42¾@43c. Receipts were 100 cars.

Oats suffered worst of the pits on the early clip. At the outset they were fractionally higher, but they soon broke sharply to 44¼c. The selling was not pronounced, being scattered outside stops. There was no apparent attempt to support the market and the subsequent rise to the other pits took oats only up part of the way. May closed easy, 1@1⅛c lower at 44¾@45c. Receipts were 102 cars.

Provisions were fairly active and steady from with higher prices on a strong hog market. The latter, however, brought some sharp selling in pork, but when grains began to firm up, short operations and replacing some longs brought a good rally. May pork closed 12½c up at $16 81½. May lard finished 7½@10c higher at 10 20@8 22½, and May ribs 7½c up at $8 37.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 60 cars; oats, 150 cars; hogs, 23,000 head.

Local Stocks Were Fairly Active, but Prices Were Irregular

HIGH RECORDS MADE BY BANKS AND TRUST COS.

The Industrials Were Rather Dull and Without Important Features.

WINDOW GLASS DECLINED

The Steel Shares Were Steady to Firm—Fire Proofing Was Exceedingly Dull—River Coal Active and Firm—Airbrake Was Ignored.

The market on the Pittsburgh Stock exchange yesterday was fairly active, but the tone was irregular and prices shifted about within a narrow range. Probably the most interesting trading was in the banking group, some of these issues making new high records and others scoring big gains. The high marks established were by the Keystone bank and the Union Trust Company. At the opening the first named sold at $400 a share, but immediately dropped $5 to $395, where it closed, with more offering and $385 bid. Fresh offerings changed hands, and the closing price was a gain of $40 for the day. Union Trust sold 10 shares at $740, an advance of $10, and more was wanted at that figure, but none offered. There was a rumor that the company might increase its dividend rate, but to how much was not guessed. It now pays 6 per cent per annum. Federal National bank, which sold one share Thursday at $131, thereby establishing a new high record, sold regularly at that price yesterday, and closed strong and in demand at $131 bid, with no offers under $132. Farmers Deposit National bank advanced $40 to $940 for 10 shares. The highest price on this stock was in June, 1901, when eight shares sold at $975. In private sales $1,050 has been paid. Ten shares of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh sold at $498, which was $48 higher than the last sale made on the exchange, though it recently sold at auction at a fraction over that price. Equitable Trust was also firmer at $178, a gain of $2. There are also reports that this company intends to increase its annual dividend rate, which now stands at 6 per cent.

In the miscellaneous group there was a lack of important features. Window Glass common sold less than 2,000 shares at 47¼@47¾, closing at 47½, a loss of ⅜ for the day, the stock being rather heavy at the close. Pittsburgh Plate Glass common. Consolidated Ice common, Pittsburgh Brewing common and Philadelphia Company common were quiet, but steady to firm at small changes. Crucible Steel common passed without a sale, and the preferred sold only a little over 200 shares, finishing with a gain of ⅛, at 85¾. United States Steel common sold 510 shares, opening at 42⅝ but closing at 42⅝, a gain of only ⅛. The preferred was dull and ¼ lower at 93¾ ex-dividend. Fire-Proofing issues were very dull, but each gained ⅛, the common at 41¾ and the preferred at 49. River Coal common was quite active, selling 1,625 shares at 13¾@13⅝, the close being unchanged. The preferred lost ½ at 43½ on small sales. Pittsburgh Coal shares were dull, steady and ¼ higher. There was no trading in Westinghouse Airbrake and the Electrics were given but scant notice. Bonds were dull but steady in tone. Consolidated Traction preferred receipts sold over 2,000 at 64⅜@64½, a loss of ⅛. There was nothing else of importance.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,348,917 40.

Total sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 6,932 shares, $13,000 bonds and 2,056 receipts.

Enormous sale of Pittsburgh Junction railroad stocks.

Window Glass declined ⅞ to 47½. Sales 1,975 shares.

Keystone bank made a new high record at $400.

At $740 a share Union Trust scored a new high mark.

The steel stocks were dull but steady.

Fire Proofing issues were badly neglected.

River Coal common was active and steady.

Pittsburgh Coal shares were quiet but firm.

Brewing common advanced.

Bonds were dull.

A BIG STOCK TRADE.

One of the biggest single trades, if not the biggest, ever consummated in a local railroad stock has just been put through by N. Holmes & Sons. Within the last two days they have delivered to Baltimore parties 15,000 common shares of the Pittsburgh Junction Railroad Company, which they have quietly gathered up recently at an average price of 37½. The purchase is presumably for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and transfers the Pittsburgh control to Baltimore. The stock was gathered in all kinds of lots, ranging from very small ones to 2,000 shares. The company has an authorized issue of $1,460,000 of common stock, par value being $50, so that 15,000 shares constitute a majority. In 1900 the stock got 2 per cent in dividends, but in 1901 nothing was paid. There is also $480,000 preferred, which bears 7 per cent annually.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sale, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

The directors of Pressed Steel Car will change the date of the annual meeting so that it will come on the fourth Tuesday in February hereafter instead of the fourth Wednesday in January, in order to facilitate the annual reports.

After the first call Equitable Trust Company sold at 178, an advance of $2, and Federal National bank sold at $130, the same as Thursday's close; at noon Federal National advanced to $131 for regular lots; that price was paid at the second call.

Application will be made shortly to list the bonds and stock of the International Salt Company on the New York stock exchange. If this is done the securities of the National Salt Company, which recently pooled the International, will likely be dropped from the stock exchange list.

Charles E. Schurtz, teller of the Federal National bank, and formerly of the Union Bank & Mechanics bank, has been elected cashier of the Western Savings & Deposit bank, to succeed H. C. Wettengel, who has accepted the position of cashier of the Diamond National bank, to take effect February 1st.

Samuel Bailey, Jr., president of the Commercial National bank, says his bank is in no wise connected with a reported bank consolidation. A bank consolidation has been in hand for 18 months, he says, but each time has fallen through. Recently options have been given for Citizens National bank stock at $5, and this may account for the revived story of a deal.

Railroad Earnings.

Iowa Central earnings the third week of January increased $1,304; from July 1 they increased $138,996.

Minnesota & St. Louis earnings the third week of January increased $3,905; from July 1 increased $84,419.

Chicago & East Illinois December gross earnings increased $29,160; net increase $12,602; from July net increase, $12,372; surplus increased $11,811.

Earnings of Missouri Pacific the third week of January increased $35,000; from January 1 increased $82,542.

AN ACQUITTAL EXPECTED.

Letter from Murdered Man Proves Excellent Evidence for the Defense.

PLATTSBURG, MO., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Addie B. Richardson (colored) made her own defense of the charge of having killed her husband, Frank W. Richardson, who was murdered at their home at Savannah on the night before Christmas, in 1900. As a climax in her defense her attorneys produced a letter written by Richardson to his wife while he was an inmate of an asylum for inebriates. It exonerated the defendant of the slurs against her character, acknowledged the writer's own guilt, and begged humbly for forgiveness.

Arguments were begun during the afternoon and it is expected the case will go to the jury by tomorrow noon. The instructions, it is stated, favor acquittal. The state will demand a verdict for murder in the first or second degree.

Oats and Shelled Corn Prices Decline

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Easier Conditions Prevail in the Egg Market—Potatoes Abundant and Slow.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Shelled corn took another drop yesterday and this time a very decided one, going down to a range of 53@53c for No. 2 yellow, with at least one sale reported lower than that price. Oats went off fractionally. Other articles in the list remain nominally unchanged, but the market is slow and weak.

Fruits and Produce.

There is a continuance of the weakness in the potato market, trade prices barely getting down to a range of 60@65c for choice, while some sales are made at a range of 50@55 cents, and inferior. Apples are moving slowly, an effort being made to clean up stocks which have been held for some time. Florida lemons have made no appearance and is attracting considerable attention. Trade in green stuff was a little better yesterday than during the early part of the week, but is only moderate.

LETEVE'S NEW THEORY MEANS GREAT CHANGE

Plan for Serum Treatment Is a Most Important Discovery.

SUCCESSFUL IN LOCKJAW

Wonderful Success of His Method for Curing Tetanus Due to Use of Auxiliary Anti-Toxin—Clinical Observations Support His Reasoning.

Dr. A. Leteve of the pathological department of Mercy hospital whose successful treatment of lockjaw has created the greatest interest in the medical world and detracted greatly from the fear which the hitherto deadly tetanus has inspired, today announces a new theory for the use of serum injections.

DR. A. LETEVE.

The theory is supported by clinical observations taken from the cases of tetanus, which Dr. Leteve has been handling so successfully during the past few months.

As a discovery it is of the highest importance to scientists, and not only affects the treatment of tetanus, but also of other maladies, where a serum treatment is in use. It is of such paramount scientific interest that its publication in the Pennsylvania Medical Journal of today will be certain to cause a furor of excitement among the scientists of the world, and its results may be so far-reaching as to ultimately result in a revolution of methods in all serum treatments.

Double Treatment Effective.

Divested in as far as possible of technical terms, Dr. Leteve's discovery is that the injection of two sera or anti-toxins is more effective in some cases than that of the specific serum used for the disease. The doctor was led to this idea by experiments which prove that the addition of bacilli harmless in themselves to other harmful germs may greatly increase the dangerous power of the latter. This fact tends to explain the severe character of an infection in one person, while another infected from the same source may have only a mild attack. In the one, there are associated two sets of bacilli, while in the other there is but one.

Reasoning from Experiments.

Dr. Leteve reasoned from this that one anti-toxin remedy might similarly accelerate the action of another.

The cases cited in support of the new theory are chiefly tetanus, commonly known as lockjaw. The Pasteur treatment for this malady is the injection of anti-tetanic serum into the brain. Originally, Pasteur attempted treatment, by the ordinary injection, under the skin, but Roux and Barrell ascertained that the nerve cells were less susceptible to the anti-toxin than to the toxin of tetanus, that is more affected by the germs than by the remedy, and so evolved the method of injecting into the brain nitra-cerebral injection.

Dr. Leteve, however, had a case in Mercy hospital, a boy whose parents refused to permit injection into the brain and injection of the anti-tetanic serum under the skin had little effect. So he applied his theory.

A Remarkable Cure.

The case was almost hopeless, convulsions being frequent, when, in addition to the anti-tetanic serum, the doctors injected the serum from a sheep rendered immune to streptoci, staphylococcus aureus and albus. Be it explained that these tremendous words are the names of germs which sometimes get into people. The effect was excellent and the boy rapidly got well.

The same treatment in the case of a woman who had stepped upon a rusty nail was fully as satisfactory. Dr. Leteve reports other cases in which other sera were used. He also cites an experiment in the veterinary practice of Dr. Chaillant and a very interesting laboratory experiment tending to prove the truth of his theory, though he declares, with the conservatism of the true scientist, that many more experiments will be needed to satisfy even himself that a new law has been discovered.

Possibilities of Theory.

Incidental to the development of his line of reasoning, Dr. Leteve opens up a large field for thought, observation and study that may be of great benefit to mankind. If it be true—and there seems no doubt—that the culture of dangerous bacillus, in company with certain less harmful germs, gives to the former added virulence, then it would seem that the condition of the human body favorable to the development of that disease consists in the presence there of the associate germs. Prophylactic—that is, preventive—treatment should, then, look to the elimination of the germs, so dangerous in association with the harmful germ, quite as certainly as that curative treatment should add the auxiliary serum to the anti-toxin treatment of the disease.

There has always been a difference of opinion among medical men concerning the value of vaccine. This difference has, undoubtedly, been due to more or less imperfect knowledge on both sides.

Importance of Discovery.

It now seems probable that the missing link has been found. Vaccine in certain conditions, that is, when introduced where other germs already exist of a character to modify or be modified by the vaccine may be beneficial or injurious according to the character of the bacilli present in the patient's system before the vaccination, the doctor must learn to know which condition exists. It is also probable this law, elaborated by Dr. Leteve, may explain the rather frequent appearance of tetanus as one of the results of vaccination.

ERIE CANAL BILL HAS A GOOD SHOW

FRIENDS OF THE MEASURE ARE TO CONSIDER IT.

Sibley's Financial Idea—He Explains It to Members of the House Committee. Tells How the Plan Would Provide an Automatic Currency.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.

The house committee on railways and canals today appointed a sub-committee with Representative Davidson of Wisconsin as chairman to consider the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal bill introduced by Representative Dalzell. As the membership of the sub-committee is practically the same as the one which reported the bill favorably last winter, it is believed the bill will be speedily reported to the house.

Representative Bates has introduced in the house a bill appropriating $150,000 for the establishment of a naval training station on Presque Isle peninsula, Erie.

Representative Sibley this morning appeared before a sub-committee of the house committee on banking and currency in support of his bill to provide an elastic currency automatically expanding and contracting as the emergency demands. A quorum was not present, but upon the request of the members Mr. Sibley briefly explained his bill. At the outset he said he was not actuated by a desire to have his name go down in history as the author of a currency law, but he introduced the measure solely because he believes it is the duty of congress to authorize an elastic currency that can be utilized to avert panics or relieve a distress in the money markets.

His bill provides simply that owners of government bonds, whether firms, corporations or individuals, might have the privilege of depositing them with the treasury and borrowing money thereon for use in cases of emergency. Not over 80 per cent of the face value of the bonds may be loaned on them by the secretary of the treasury, and while the bonds are deposited for the loan interest on them should cease.

If this were authorized, owners of bonds could speedily realize ready money on them and use it to aid in relieving a monetary stringency. As the bonds would not draw interest while deposited, the owners would speedily redeem them whenever they could not make as much interest off the money borrowed as the interest on the bonds would amount to. Thus we would have an automatic currency that would meet with general approval.

In reply to a question Mr. Sibley said national banks could not always be relied upon to issue more circulating notes in times of financial distress, and, besides, it would take time to deposit bonds of national banks and have national bank notes printed and issued, whereas relief in the face of a panic must come at once or it would be too late.

Representative Graham expects to have the sub-committee give a hearing some day next week to citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny who are interested in the elastic currency bill that he introduced.

TREATY POWER QUESTION.

Senate Committee Says It Is Unlimited, Even on Tariff Matters. Line-Up on Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The sub-committee of the senate committee on foreign relations, which has had under consideration the legal questions connected with the reciprocity treaties, today decided to report to the full committee their opinion on the treaty-making power of the executive and the senate on questions affecting the tariff. The contention is made on behalf of the house of representatives that under the requirement that all revenue laws should originate in the house, that body should cooperate in the consideration of all measures bearing on that subject. The sub-committee will report just in its opinion such is not the case, and will take the ground that the treaty-making power of the president and the senate is unrestricted.

Republican members of the ways and means committee are beginning to line up for the fight over Cuban reciprocity. Representative McCall of Massachusetts is the first to declare himself openly in favor of reciprocity.

We've Got the Men Interested in our Annual Clothing Counter Clearing as they were never interested before. That alone speaks volumes in favor of this offering. Thousands of men, who generally pay little attention to advertisements, have read and responded to our announcements about this sale. And more than this, they were so much pleased with the way the sale is conducted and with the Suits and Overcoats they bought, that they sent in their friends and neighbors. Today we expect the liveliest clothing buying yet, and, in order to present unbroken lines to all who come, we have filled up the gaps here and there with better qualities, without any increase in price.

Your Choice For $5 — From All Suits and Overcoats Marked $6.50, $7.50 @ $8.

Your Choice For $7 — From All Suits and Overcoats Marked $9, $10 @ $12.

Your Choice For $10 — From All Suits and Overcoats Marked $13, $15 @ $16.

Your Choice For $15 — From All Suits and Overcoats Marked $20, $22 @ $25.

Thinking Men will quickly note the difference between this and other So-Called Reduction Sales. We don't show you an Overcoat marked $10 and tell you it was formerly marked $15. We have simply left the old prices intact, and leave it for you to take off the reduction yourself, in accordance with the above figures. Thus, if a Suit or Overcoat is marked $16, you deduct $6, and pay only $10; or, if it is marked $25, you can deduct $10, and hand the salesman $15. That's clear and straight—that's honest—that's the way you want things done—and so do we.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting the Pittsburgh & Western Railway the right to maintain and use a railroad switch heretofore constructed by the Allegheny & Western Railway Company under grant from the city of Allegheny, across River avenue and Balkam street, First ward, from the Pittsburgh & Western railroad into property of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway Company.

Whereas, The Allegheny & Western Railway Company, by ordinance approved June 16th, 1899, was granted the right to construct and maintain for a period of two years, a railroad switch across River avenue and Balkam street, First ward, from the Pittsburgh & Western railroad into the property of said Allegheny & Western Railroad Company, now the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway Company, according to an accompanying plan, and in pursuance of said grant said Allegheny & Western Railroad Company constructed said switch; and

Whereas, Said grant to said company has already expired by limitation, and,

Whereas, Said switch is now being used daily by the Pittsburgh & Western railway which finds it necessary in the transaction of its business; though such use is without authority from the city, and,

Whereas, No reason exists why said Pittsburgh & Western railway should not be confirmed by the city in its right to use said switch; therefore

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That said Pittsburgh & Western railway shall be hereby granted the right to maintain and use the railroad switch constructed as aforesaid by the Allegheny & Western Railroad Company.

Provided, That said Pittsburgh & Western railway shall keep said switch, River avenue and Balkam street, at the place of crossing, in good repair as long as said switch shall be maintained, and, when said switch is removed, shall also thoroughly repair the injury done by such removal, and provided, further, that said crossing at Balkam street shall not be obstructed between the hours of 6 o'clock a. m. and 8 o'clock p. m.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

(No. 264.)

AN ORDINANCE—Exonerating the resident taxables of the city from the payment of the one dollar "poll tax" levied by councils in the year 1888, amounting to eleven hundred five thousand and forty-four ($11,544 00) dollars and directing the delinquent tax collector to credit the accounts on his books with such exoneration and the city controller to enter credits on his books.

Whereas, In pursuance of an act of assembly requiring the same, the councils of the city of Allegheny, in the year 1888, levied and caused to be assessed a poll tax of one ($1 00) dollar on each resident taxable in the city, and

Whereas, A large proportion of the said tax became delinquent and was referred to the delinquent tax collector for collection, and

Whereas, While $11,544 00 of said tax remained yet uncollected, the act of assembly authorizing the levying and collection of said tax was declared unconstitutional and thus the collection of the same cannot be lawfully enforced, but said amount is still charged against the delinquent tax collector on his books. Now, therefore

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that the resident taxables against whom the one ($1 00) dollar "poll tax" was levied and caused to be assessed by councils of the city of Allegheny for the year 1888 who have paid the same and who are charged therewith on the books of the delinquent tax collector, be and they are hereby exonerated from the payment of the same.

Sec. 2. The delinquent tax collector be and he is hereby authorized to enter the above exoneration upon his books in the nature of a credit to said charges to the amount of eleven thousand five hundred and forty-four ($11,544 00) dollars, and in pursuance of this ordinance the city controller is hereby authorized and directed to enter a credit on the account which he holds against the delinquent tax collector for said amount, itemized as follows:

First ward	$ 976 00
Second ward	1,872 00
Third ward	1,575 00
Fourth ward	1,380 00
Fifth ward	1,248 00
Sixth ward	1,560 00
Seventh ward	481 00
Eighth ward	572 00
Ninth ward	518 00
Tenth ward	288 00
Eleventh ward	612 00
Twelfth ward	582 00
Thirteenth ward	825 00
Total	$11,544 00

And the said collector is hereby discharged and released from any and all liability for said unpaid poll tax.

Sec. 3. That so much of any ordinances as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing be and the same is hereby repealed.
